Lmao I saw your other thread and you took his suggestion seriously, just know that you have to buy some and you can't dropship.

Like, what if I went to a public sex place here and bought stuff, is that considered drop shipping? Please give me an example of how you would sell stuff without drop shipping. If you buy something and sell it, isn't that drop shipping?

Only if it's a discrete fold-out pocket fleshlight

No, dropshipping is moving from the manufacturer directly to the retailer.

Yes, if you have the product and ship it out yourself to the customer, it's not dropshipping.

I'm curious if people would even buy before I take the leap forward.
