Thread: RAT help for Newcomers! \(FREE\) \(New Thread Design\)

?O?? - October 21, 2016, 6:51 pm

Hello Newcomers! I am offering a free Service for setting up RATS. I know many users (Such As my beloved friend purple kief) have setups they can do. But since many of those users are most often busy or offline I decided to be another guy that helps people. So what am I offering?

I am offering complete setup for you! No matter what RAT you have. Even if it is the out of date program Darkcomet. (I do not recommend using DC because of many reasons. It is you're problem what RAT you use).

What I can Do--

- Port Forwarding With Router or VPN service. I am familiar with all VPN's.
- Setting up all kinds of RATS. (Orcus, IM, LL, etc.)
- I can teach you how to crypt properly (I WILL NOT CRYPT FOR YOU!!)
- I can test on a VM.
- Any Troubleshooting

I have helped setup rats for members before. Some are willing to learn some want me to spoon-feed them. Either way i will help you!

TOS/Things I ask of you

•NO CRACKED RATS! For the love of Devs please support them. I used to be a cracked rat user long before i joined here and realized that the devs take years to code these amazing pieces of software.

Hey dude i recommend Imminent monitor. It is compatible with the big crypters here and the stub is small. 350 KB. If you need precise help please add me on skype.

If you want native get netwire or #, they are good rats but are a little expensive.

I've looked at other threads and it looks like the best free rat to use is njrat. What your opinion alice

Wolfie, good to see you're starting now that I'm stopping.
Hope you stay active atleast for a little bit.

Also, your previous name & avatar were miles ahead of this one. ?

I appreciate all the vouches. I am still getting my skype blown up. i love helping you guys!!

I??? - October 29, 2016, 3:35 pm

Vouch for this, helped me out when I was trying to learn a new program and what crypter to buy and what not.

Thanks so much for a kind humble experience Nightwolf, and if anyone is debating this due to it being free, it's extremely high quality help.

Thanks once again Nightwolf!

Purple Kief - October 29, 2016, 4:35 pm

Shoutout to wolfie alright, valued member of my RAT chat.
Don't hesitate to ask him all about his pink underwear.

Hey nightwolf

Awesome thread! I have successfully setup my rat, self tested and seems good to go but having crypting problems. Purchased a crypter recently which I believe is supposed to be decent but getting runtime detections so just need help with crypting, will pm you the crypter I'm using, I also think I'm on a skype group with you already lol. Been looking around the forum for help so would be great to get some input from you. Thanks man!

OK awesome.

Update 11/1/16:

Currently making a kickass thread design for my rat help desk. I apologize to all if I am slow to respond. Life is bogging me down. ?

SIM-307931 - November 1, 2016, 3:00 pm

Haven t been ratting for like 3 years. I used to use DarkComet or CyberGate and no-ip ;) I know those RATs are deprecated and in other words useless, I m gonna buy Imminent Monitor or LL, but what DNS would you suggest to use now (preferably free one, but I m able to pay also) ? I heard some time ago that no-ip is being watched by FBI or something.

Thanks in advance

Use freenom DNS for free. Armadas DNS for paid. And yes NO-IP is sketchy as hell. ?

P.S the thread now looks sleek with a new design.
