[Update]

i haven't test the ALT Loader inside the crypter, which may have better runtime result, but then if you don't have a native rat then that function will not work, so i will not use it in review this time, if someone have tested that can sent me the result so i can update the review details.

Nice review OP, I like the way you made a thread artwork for it as well.

Little suggestion on the link to sales thread maybe make it go to the first page. I can see you first language is possibly not English but good effort.

I hope you tested the AV in a VM with the internet off so as not to distribute the samples? ?

Nice work mate keep it up. I recommend you use a new VM for each AV or they will conflict with each other. Best way to do so is use snapshots in my experience.

Thank you for your review of spartancrypter.

I'm glad to see that spartancrypter has worked out well for you.

The binder bug has been fixed last night, and I will try to fix the remaining bug today.

As you may have noticed I am still figuring out what the best way to distribute updates is. Right now it works, but I will try my best to improve it and make it more professional.

I'd just like to give a quik update. Since this review I have implemented a better updating system, which is automatic for users.

Let me know if you'd like to see any other features.

its appear professional crypter

good luck

its one of the most easy to use crypter i've used

if you looking for native and easy to use crypter then i'll surely recommend you with Spartan Crypter, Deluxe Crypter Reborn and StarProtector, but then star protector update through mail so its a bit complicated on update
