Thread: Should I?

?O?? - October 27, 2016, 7:56 pm

Alright Gents I am in the process of building a new PC. On my old one I had windows 10. Should I go back to the good ol classic windows 7? Im having a hard time deciding.

You can always download vmware/virtualbox and run an old windows iso, or vice versa.

Nah this OS is gonna be my daily one. I must choose wisely. I feel like win 10 is good for gaming.

dismayed - October 27, 2016, 7:59 pm

Depends on the build. If you have an expensive setup go 10. If below 1500 go 7.

Naded - October 27, 2016, 7:59 pm

I'd go with 8.1 pro but that's just me. You could always go back to XP

I suggest windows 10, just because it's compatible with more software etc.

Get windows 10 and disable the windows defender garbage

IPIKIN - October 27, 2016, 9:22 pm

Nothing beats Windows 3.0.1

fader - October 27, 2016, 10:46 pm

Keep windows 10 imo. I just like it better and feels a tad more zippy honestly.

b?xxy - October 27, 2016, 10:48 pm

I'm a diehard Windows 7 fan.

In my opinion the best thing ever to happen to computers.

Def go to windows 10 It's actually really good and fast compared to the other windows OS systems.

ChaoticForce - October 28, 2016, 9:21 am

Believe me windows 7 is so much easier... Windows 10 will take like 6 months to get used to... I still changed to windows 7, windows 10 is garbage I heard they made up some shit so now games run shit or something like that

I still laugh when my IT teacher says scan with Defender. Lmao

Cyber - October 28, 2016, 9:23 am

I went to windows 10 went back to windows 7 and then went right back to windows 10. The extra features are awesome and windows 7 feels bland compared to it. Don't hesitate to get windows 10

Mr.Peanut - October 28, 2016, 9:28 am imho Windows 10 is really good. Fuck whoever said 8.1, idk what they're smoking. I miss xp days as do we all but yeah Windows 10 man, it's great. They finally merged the layout of Windows 7 with Windows 8 properly.

Emily The Princess - October 28, 2016, 11:36 am

I'd say go for Windows 10! I would if i could on my laptop!

Eagle 95 - October 28, 2016, 11:45 am

Plot twist - OP goes for some of the awesome Linux distributions. :cool:

(Windows 7 + Ubuntu/Linux Mint = you win at life).

yotoprules - October 28, 2016, 11:48 am

Windows 7 by far. I've downgrades from Windows 10 to Windows 7 recently and I haven't regretted it one bit. Ever since Windows 8 it has been going downhill. If I could I would use Windows XP, but that's too old.

I completely agree with this user, it's a pretty good OS but so is windows 7. Not fond of windows 10 in the least. if you can get 8.1 I highly recommend it as it prevents the RAT Dark comet's stub from running. But so does windows 10.

Only the skiddiest of skids use darkcomet.

Well yeah, still keeps them out if OP doesn't know the first thing about safe downloading ?.

But it is really ugly. It is bloated with tons of useless features such as cortana and I find it slower than windows 7. Windows 8.1 is also good, I really like the look of windows 8.1, very clean. If I had to choose between these 3 I would choose windows 7, if I couldn't choose that then I would choose windows 8.1.

CULTURE - October 28, 2016, 12:06 pm

Yeah go for Windows 10, it feels like a more modern Windows 7

?O?? - October 28, 2016, 6:33 pm

I have taken the advice to get windows 10!

Billie Joe Armstrong - October 28, 2016, 7:10 pm

Ugh I hate Win 10.

I personally like Win 7 more.
