Formerly known as random person.

Never in 5 years time here on HF have I been scammed and I know that $15 is not much but this just annoys me. To be scammed and how he acts.

I wanted to do a quick BTC to PayPal exchange.

thread: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5446138>

Got an reply from "nique ta mere"

<https://gyazo.com/e6932cb897fceb43bea5e1981b8794b6>

Sent the bitcoins

<https://gyazo.com/57ec832b6a25175ef03ef3de9fbafbcf>

Replied back with my PayPal address. Sent two messages since it took him awhile to answer. This is the reply I get from him.

<https://gyazo.com/e1f59892d353f072669781fd938ed9d6>

Nothing had arrived to my PayPal account. Sent him about 5 more messages. No reply.

Then I post a new thread in the Currency Exchange section

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5446677>

Then I get yet another PM from him.

<https://gyazo.com/007ffdfceea56c6d1704c5c53c1b47a8>

Replied back to him telling that he should pay me and yet again. No reply.

Then I notice he has neg repped me and said "Deal with caution"

I feel your pain. Still waiting for the proof of sending the funds though.

At least try scamming for bigger amounts. And leave me that rep already. xD <3

"Holy fuck! This dude is a fucking sketchy monster man, he refused MM, tried sending me PP which I then noticed was verified but from a completely different country from where this user was so quickly refunded. Deal with EXTREME caution, sketchy user."

Thanks babe.

its kinda your fault for not even checking his reputation, or using the trust scan feature, although its a dick move on his part to scam so many people.

Wouldn't surprise me in the least if he sold his account to a banned member. Been a lot of people doing that lately.
