Hexicidal Wrote:Going through the section and the individual choice of users, I think what you have going is incredible and that you should be proud. The direction you took is phenomenal and the only qualms that I personally have with it is through my own experiences of a continuous decline in activity. Over time involvement withers. I'd recommend a constant hunt/application based search for new members alongside fostering and developing older members. The content is solely developed by the community, and the community is what you create.

The culture is lovely, and the leader is phenomenal.

Our first round of recruitment was very successful. I have brought in members who have provided amazing content and discussion material to the group. I am opening recruitment again to get some more like minded thinkers in the group.

Conspiracies, War, Society, Religion, Suppressed Technology, CIA Experiments, Politics. Etc

We are a group that refrains from using biased opinion, rather than proving a factual counter-argument, and comments spitting other members for their own discussions. I do this to provide a spot where we can discuss controversial topics without negativity and provide a discussion meant only for the topic at hand.

Use the following format while posting your application. Do not apply via UserCP, message myself or other leaders of the group. You will be denied. Also, do not edit your application. Any application that isn't the original will not even be in consideration. Let's see how well people follow the rules. For the new application, you will choose five questions to ask yourself.

Topics that interest you: I have always had a strange fascination with mysteries such as conspiracy theories and UFOs. I would like a group of people like me to discuss it with while learning more at the same time

What can you offer: My devotion and an extremely active user

What makes you different: I am charismatic and intelligent and that is what you need

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day: Easily

Last words?: Sorry if this looks shabby. I'm on my phone and I had to delete the OP until I got this

The Silenced - October 30, 2016, 4:30 pm

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:I am The Silenced. I have been around here for a few years..I'm huge into mobile technology and a very out-going/well rounded person.

Topics that interest you:Definitely a big conspiracy enthusiast..Hidden technology such as Nikola Tesla's inventions..Basically anything technology related as well.

What can you offer:I can offer my insight into the group..I love researching hot topics, current and past events and bring new angles to ideas of them..I'm always open to debate & I'm always a good person to just talk to in general.

What makes you different:I am very open minded to all sides of the story, I have extreme loyalty to my causes which seems to be a dying breed. I'm unique in my own way.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:Yes I can do that without a problem.

Last words?: It would be an honor to be a part of this group, I would love to bring my views to the table and listen to others.. Every aspect of the occult intrigues & excites me. I feel that being a part of this would grow my knowledge and views as a whole & it would just be awesome to be a part of something bigger than myself.

Tokyo - October 30, 2016, 4:45 pm

Odd part of Illuminati. Good luck to all applicants.

BR?ND?N - October 30, 2016, 5:05 pm

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you: I am Brenden, I am 17 years old and from the USA. I love facts, history, and especially conspiracy theories. Probably one of my favorite things to look into and I believe you have to look at every conspiracy even the crazy ones, because maybe there is truth to it. While many look at theorists as crazies, I look at them as those who aren't afraid to think outside the box. Those whose minds wander away from what society wants them to think.

Topics that interest you: I enjoy theories. Having made numerous threads in the SRPP regarding various ones I enjoy. Cryptozoology is an interest of mine along with theories such as the Hitler death theories, the JFK inside job, 9/11, etc. I love debates and I love when people argue what was told. It makes things interesting. By being allowed into Illuminati I'll likely be involved in every thread. I just enjoy that kind of discussion.

What can you offer: Since I am applying for the occult section and I've already stated I enjoy occult discussion I'll be HEAVILY involved in said discussion. I have great interest in it, and would enjoy discussion of it.

What makes you different: I have a serious interest in this kind of stuff, I'm actually known by friends as being the theories guy. If there is a theory to be had or a discussion, I'm usually in on it. I'll contribute, just look at my post.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day: Of course I can, I already make way more than that all around HF

Last words?: Love me?

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:

I'm a 20 year old college graduate in Business and Accounting. I live in I enjoy helping others in any way possible. I live in the USA. I'm a huge gambler, drug addict and alcoholic. I love listening to music, going out to new places I've never been before and just having an overall good time with family and friends.

Topics that interest you:

Economics, Politics, Financial State, Tax, Corruption, Causes of Poverty, Ethical Hacking, Society, Conspiracies, Business, Technology, Religion etc.

What can you offer:

I am very active on the forum therefore I can contribute a lot of time to the group. I like to share my opinion on things and make sure to understand the point of view of others, without bias.

What makes you different:

I will represent the group well and keep the good image that the group has. You can expect nothing but high quality post from me. I've recently grown a huge interest in this kind of stuff & of course I'll be loyal to the group.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

I sure can. I'll try to post as much as I can, and make an effort to make new threads in the subforum

Last words?:

Thank you for taking the time to read through my application. It would be an honor to join this group.

Reissfeider - October 30, 2016, 8:43 pm

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you: I am a 18 year old HS student who is interested in making money to be able to pay for myself and to pay for college. I use to gamble a lot but I realized that it wouldn't help, but atleast I was able to cashout before the addiction took over. I spend most of my free time on my computer either playing games or researching or on this forum or maybe on reddit because reddit gives me a lot of interest.

Topics that interest you: Topics that would interest me are ways to make money, personal life, financing, mythological beings such as witches and vampires and werewolves; I watched a lot of shows on netflix and im hooked on myths, I'm also interested in ways to better myself and better the people around me.

What can you offer: I can offer someone who is most of the time good with advice and someone who is not afraid of speaking their mind. I'm also very active and if you need be I'll be there even if it's like at 3 am.

What makes you different: What makes me different from the other applications is that I feel like I treat everyone with respect and I also try to be on good terms with everyone instead of leaving the problem as is. I am also very loyal and sincere to those whom are close to me.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day: Yes, I will always try my best to be able to contribute and comment on the topics within the group.

Last words?: Thank you for taking the time to read my application and I would like to wish everyone good luck in the application process. I would also like to say if I do make it in, I would be honored sincerely because this group seems very prestigious.

GameFreak - October 30, 2016, 8:47 pm

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:

I am a young adult who enjoys swimming and waterpolo. I play piano and guitar in my spare time, along with socializing. I spend my evening hours reading educational text, such as nuts and bolts of college writing.

Topics that interest you:

I enjoy finances. Spreadsheets, Mergers and Acquisitions, you name it. Since I am in school I rarely have time to build capital to fully demonstrate my abilities, but patience is a virtue. I like casual discussion about controversial topics, such as the rigging of professional sports, a true and false media, but I rarely discuss politics. I refrain from engaging in conversation about topics I know little about, but I still wish to listen until I can contribute to conversation. I also thoroughly enjoy personal development.

What can you offer:

I can offer time and perhaps a new perspective. Depending on how I feel and how you feel I would be able to help with strategies to make the illuminatti a more powerful organization through M&A.

What makes you different:

With all respect, I feel like I have a decent amount of people skills and charisma that can be hard to find among computer-based forums. I am working on personal development which is something I seldom see. Finally, I am based off of principle and moral which will contribute to my development as a higher-quality citizen. I also don't watch TV or enjoy and vices.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

Yea absolutely. I spend quite some time online, albeit not as much on hackforums as I would like. However, I did just discover the ability to see live posts which has consumed my weekend.

Last words?:

Perhaps silly, but I feel I may need to mention this. I understand a person with low site rankings can be a major turn-off, especially for a powerful and well respected usergroup. I am willing to do much more on this site, and plan to! Becoming a part of the Illuminati could prove to be a good deal for the both of us, as I will be posting high quality and relevant information to the forums under your group, while I can learn humility and humbleness by working under a powerful organization. Thank you.

Best,
ApeDegree

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you: Hey, my name is Grail. Currently I am a sophomore in college studying Nursing. I spend my time studying, on HF socializing, and hanging out with friends in real life. I really getting into in-depth conversations with friends and family about different topics in today's society.

Topics that interest you: Topics that interest me are, Politics, the reasoning behind the decisions my country makes (United States), Political reasoning on a global scale, Sociology and Psychology, and pretty much anything in the medical field. I am currently taking micro-biology, nutrition, Anatomy Two, and Chemistry. I love researching and compiling information.

What can you offer: I can offer my unbiased opinion on a spectrum of a different topics. I have recently become very active on hackforums browsing and posting many hours a day. I love socializing with other people on ideas we may not all agree on and listening to perspectives that I may not have thought of before. This acts as a way of expanding the thought process that is always developing. I also enjoy creating informational guides on any topics. I recently created this guide <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5447034> and had a very enjoyable time creating it. I enjoy doing things like this as it makes me dig for information and helps me learn.

What makes you different: I really am a social butterfly. I love engaging in conversations with groups of people. I enjoy formal debating. I am mature.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day: Yes.

Last words?: I really think this would be an interesting group to be apart of. I look forward to hearing back from you guys whether its a decline of entry or acceptance. This is my first time applying for a group on Hackforums and honestly, I see no better fit for me than here.

Thank you for your time and consideration. Feel free to shoot a PM with any questions you might have.

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you: I am a new member to the HackForums community. And although I may not have time spent on this website yet, I plan on coming up with ideas to start pushing out a lot more High Quality content. I have read about the Illuminati group on the HFWiki page. And I really do applaud the original founder of the group for having such creative ideas and being invested in the Illuminati. I strive for greatness when it comes to my responses and threads and will hardly be seen acting like a troll or an LQ user. I do not respond to other peoples remarks with hatred or profanity, instead I provide intelligent arguments in an attempt to either persuade them to take my side on the topic, or to get them to at least understand. I have an innate ability for Writing and sentence structure. And I also believe I have good grammar also. My goal for HF is to be a part of the Illuminati someday because I know I have what it takes. And if I don't get it this time around, then I will work harder to gain more respect within the community to have a better chance next time.

Topics that interest you: I am very interested in Gaming, Technology, Marketing (especially sales). I may not be the best black hat but I learn more everyday about White Hat ideology. I look forward to learning more about the other categories available on HackForums to read about. I have a hobby of teaching myself Web Design that I recently took up in order to further my online resume. I'm very High Quality and believe I have great potential for HF and the Illuminati usergroup.

What can you offer: Giveaways, High Quality threads and responses, a helping hand to users in need of computer/mobile assistance. I can also be a very good salesman if I am selling a product I believe in. I don't believe in scamming users, so everything I say is legitimate and heartfelt.

What makes you different: I'm a 19 year old with a big vocabulary and an intelligent mind. No user can think the way I feel because I am a unique person. I am not influenced by money or power, I am just glad to be a part of this vast community and hope to better it with my presence.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day: I can meet the goal and surpass it. I'm easy to communicate with on a lot of topics ranging from Health and Wellness to Technological discussion and everything in between.

Last words?: I'm not expecting to be accepted into Illuminati this time. But as I grow in the community and get the attention of more members, I know that the next time there is Open Recruitment for Illuminati, that I will have a much better Reputation and will be able to make it into Illuminati. I would like to thank the Leader for their time reading this. And I'm looking forward to a response.

Tell me about you:

I'm Minister of Lost Souls, or just short The Minister. I'm a person that always wants to learn new things. A dreamer, of sorts. I like to think of new things and try to make it work. I would call myself a trustworthy and nice person.

Topics that interest you:

There's a wide range of topics that interest me. This goes from developing, marketing to ethical hacking and gaming. Basicly, I interest myself in almost anything that's new and exciting.

What can you offer:

Not much, I guess. Compared to other members on here, there's not much special I can bring to the group. The reason I'm looking for a group is to expand my horisons and make myself more valueable to the community. I hope I do have something to offer in the end. However, I do know some stuff about development etc.

What makes you different:

Being me. I'm a special little snowflake.

16 years old, wanting to pursue a career in the Air force or possibly a technical job in Computer Science. Conspiracy Theorist for a hobby, as well as wanting to create multiple businesses and organizations for fun. I study German in school and Japanese as another hobby. Always love to expand on the knowledge I already have.

Topics that interest you:

Conspiracy Theories, Business Making, Languages/Translation. Creation of different groups/organizations.

What can you offer:

Possibly some graphical design help, I'm good at making thread designs but not at marketing the product. Possibly help in research for topics as well, and possibly translation for German (I'm in my second year atm) though my Japanese is only basic.

What makes you different:

If I have interest in a task I will pretty much dedicate all my free time in to it. I also have a major interest in things that not a lot of people know about, or are only allowed to be known by a select few.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

For a while I have come and gone but feel as though I will be able to maintain a good amount of posts per day as I feel as I wasted a lot of learning opportunity by not being active on here more. Possibly not a thread daily but multiple weekly.

TheVBScripiter - November 1, 2016, 6:27 am

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:

First of all, thanks a lot for the Illuminati group to offer such an opportunity (for regular members to join them as well). I'm a 22 year old member living in Europe. I got lots of knowledge about IT (computer related things), which I basically learned myself over the years by experimenting, failing and trying again until I succeeded. I like to earn money, who doesn't, except I am very interested in everything related to marketing. I've always had a passion for that, since I was a kid.

I was a Moderator at a forum but I "quitted" due to being unable to spent as much time online as I should, due to college/internship and work. Now I got time to spent online, to learn and to earn, which is my main priority of being online.

I'm a family man, which means that I care and love my family members (as well as very close friends who're treating me like family). I am a well mannered person, who's trying to treat everybody with respect.

I like to help out others as well as taking care of business on my own.

What I really like to do is to share knowledge with others and gain knowledge from others as well.

I got a very big heart for kind and well mannered members, I can stand arrogance (like cocky behaviour) and my biggest dream is to be financial independent without a "boss", because I don't see any reason working for a guy who's using me as a number to get his bank number increased without moving a finger haha.

What I like to do when I was younger (and now for money) is writing tutorials / eBooks which I can sell after.

I created YouTube videos to teach other people how to program with Visual Basic, but I quit doing that a very long time ago.

I'm a positive person in generally, which means I don't give up easy as well when something doesn't work the way I hoped for.

Anyway, I could go on for hours talking about myself, but I rather get to learn other members than to talk about myself.

Topics that interest you:

Non-business related things; Conspiracy theories, philosophy, talking about "what if" situations to see how other members view are on certain things, tutorials (writing content to help out others), discussing about a certain topic to expand my point of view (learning to see things from multiple points of view to learn more about a topic/situation) and as last but not least, music.

I care about music because it helped me a lot to process certain things in live, as well as the fact that the whole world is connected to music (spotify, promotional videos with music, music in certain tv shows, music in stores, etc.)

Business related things; CPA, PPI, "just" online marketing, SEO (No expert yet but eager to learn more), social media marketing (Facebook page + ads, for example), content writing, giveaways (yes, this could be good for "business" purposes as well), almost everything which is related to business (especially online business).

Eye openers / mind twisting conspiracies; This had to be point out in my opinion, because this has becoming more and more popular over the years, not only thanks to "social media" but thanks to the "whole" internet as well.

We used to be excited about "games" and "wow, check out: www.google.com", but today we are able to see mistakes from (social) media where they tell some kind of sketchy story (truck in paris, ISIS, shooting in Orlando, etc!) which doesn't add up with their "facts".

I'm not going to claim anything here, but I am very interested in those mind breaking things, because what the government is doing (not the "European government" or the "USA government" but I mean those guys on top with almost 100% of the world banks), as well as the "classified" information about Aliens (exterrestrial life) on other plants. This is facinating for me, due to the small amount of information "we" got ("we" = we average people who don't got connections to find out classified information) about them (exterrestrial life), but proof that has been leaked as opened up my eyes since the first time I read about it.

Etc. I'm not trying to be rude or "nonchalant" but I could go on for hours about what I'm interested in, I don't want to spam a page full with my interests, so I'll move on.

What can you offer:

I can offer you to be one of the kindest and eager to learn members of your group.

I can share a lot of knowledge I got about certain things which you guys might not have, since I like to help out others as well as sharing information.

I can contribute to the group with HQ threads where I'm open for discussion about a certain topic, which will be used for HQ discussion only.

I got an "eye" for business, which can be always useful in a group, no matter what.

I am, once "comfortable" very loyal and respecting. I was raised to have respect for others, because you can never know what they have been through in life, which was a valuable lesson for me ("raised to treat the janitor with the same respect as the CEO").

I'm not sure what else I can contribute, because I'm "good" at a lot of things, this is something I say to show you guys (leaders, members & other members) that I can help you out with a lot of things as well as talk/discuss about certain matters.

I'm familiar with Photoshop and experienced in writing a lot of content (although my English isn't perfect, I try to do my best to write as clear as possible with a flawless grammar), so contributing HQ content shouldn't be any problem for me.

Investigating. Finding out where a person lives, who's he/she is related too, previous education or just information about a certain person (to be honest, I have done this for other people to track scammers, to find out where they lived / email / etc. so the "victims" could contact them.) It's a bit like stalking, but with the right purposes I think.

Further I can contribute a kind members who likes to spent time online, who is eager to learn, who got respect for others and who is familiar to HF for a very long time (6 years now).

What makes you different:

I'm a risk taker, a romantic lover and a very loyal and kind person in one.

I don't got multiple personages (illness), I am just very emotional developed.

I dare to take risk (investing in new methods, contacting HQ people to find out what they know or to ask them to learn me something, as well as taking the risk to find out certain things).

Came from a family where respect is important, especially for others, elderly people and women.

Although I can be short tempered, I got a very big heart, once you are in my heart you aren't able to leave soon (I'll do almost anything for a person I love/respect), but once you're out, there is no way back in (I'm good, but not crazy).

I am very enthusiastic when working on topics I got interests for (example, when I was working on my "CPA" career, I used to work in the middle of the night, just to finish 1 small thing on a website which lead into a HUGE increasement of the quality of the site). So once I work on something (thread, post, project, site, guide, ebook, video, etc..) I am dedicated for a 100% until I got it working / online, etc.

Anyway, to come to a conclusion about myself, I'm a respectful guy who likes to help out others and is fun to talk too, as well as a great mentor (not only e-Whore related, as well as just teaching others what I know, whatever it is).

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

Threads and posts shouldn't be a problem. I can't promise / guarantee that I'll write every day 5 threads and 50 posts, but what I can guarantee you is that I'm spending enough time online to maintain threads I created, write a new one or post many times per day on other group related threads.

To be more precise, I spent almost 7-8 hours a day behind my laptop, so I'm 100% sure I can keep up with one thread/post a day.

Last words?:

I have talked (PM'd) with a member of your group for the past few days and I have to say I was very impressed.

Not only was he a very friendly user, he also told me certain things which I was really impressed by, like social things, taking care of others, etc.

He wasn't only very respectful, comforting and professional, he also replied a lot of content while being on his phone, which is pure dedication for me. I respect that.

I hope that I fit in your group and that I will (try to) never disappoint you guys.

It's a new month today (1 November) which means for me that I got a new month to start / work on a "new me", which would be incredible if I would be accepted in your group.

If you guys would like to know something about me, which I haven't mentioned in the past few questions / statements, I'd like to offer you to be free to PM me so I can answer them as well as possible.

Even if I am not accepted, I still wish you guys (and those who read this about me) a very good day ?

Hello guys I was literally in illuminati a little over a week ago then I got pneumonia and wasn't able to really be in the computer much for about 5 days. When I returned I saw that my userbar was gone. I contacted bandors as he was the one who gave me membership and he said it was a mistake and that he would add me back as soon as he could and he said he had to do something real quick and to remind him if it wasn't done in 5 mins. It's been a week now and he doesn't reply and always seems to be busy. I have since gotten a new skype account because my other was having stupid issues locking me out but my old skype is still in the illuminati skype chat (j0kersec). I told Nex my situation and he said he couldn't help me because it was bandors who recruited me so bandors has to be the one to re add me. I have several friends in illuminati that say it's near impossible to contact bandors because he is always busy doing something...

If anyone has a way of contacting bandors please tell him to take a look at this thread.. I have PMed him on HF as well as messaged him on skype all to no avail.

I will re apply in usercp with this same message as well in a few hours if I still don't get a reply.

Thanks for reading, if anyone can help please PM me

Tell me about you:

I am 22, but i have seen the world so to speak.

I know my way around life and life knows it way around me, i have had many dissapointments in life wich made me the person i am today, i am on my way to success and i am growing in life even more,

i can have really in depth conversations, if you want shoot me a PM.
I am a team player, always looking to expand my net of people.
I work hard and i do not like half finished work, when i begin something i end it.
I am open to ideas and i always listen to what others say, and i will always help them or talk with them about anything.
I have dealt with alot of shit in life on a young age so i know that life is a bitch, hence why i added the skill psychology.
I learnt about psychology because i wanted to understand life, understand people, understand the way people act or think.
I hope that i can get the oppertunity to proof myself.
Trust and loyalty is everything, i litteraly got both words tattoo'd because you won't get anywhere without them.
Thank you for your time to review my application, and i wish everyone who's applying goodluck ?

Topics that interest you:

Topics that do most interest me are:

- Psychology
- Cryptology
- Steganography
- Conspiracy theories
- Politics

(Personal)

- Tattoo's
- Drawing
- Music

What can you offer:

I feel like i can bring alot of my knowledge and experience into the group, i will help everyone as much as i can, and provide the ones in need with knowledge.
I can also hit the ones in need of graphics, with graphics.

What makes you different:

What makes me different is like i stated above how live turned out to be for me till now.
I am a very strong individual and have my own opinion.
I've been trough alot and that makes me the person i am today, strong, independant, loyal and trustworthy.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

Most defintly.

Last words?:

I want to thank you for taking time to read my application, i really feel like my application is strong, and i hope you do to.

Words cannot show what deeds can, and i will give my all if i will be given the chance to join Illuminati.

Sincerely,
Saint.

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:

I am 19 years old, I live in Europe and I am called Skilo on the forums.

I've always liked being different in a unique way, something that benefits me and the people I work with in a very good, special way.

I don't usually act seriously on forums, I love sarcasm and I kind of like to post here and there, there's no set topic, if it's something that can be discussed, I'll be there to discuss.

If you would take a look at my threads you will be seeing hot topics within the lounge and interesting subjects that can be discussed about, I love discussing, if it's done properly.

I'm also the type of person that could be working a full day, non-stop, for a project of mine.

I know the feeling of failing very well and I can almost directly indicate if a project will be successful.

I know well how you have to build up a steady, legitimate reputation.

I'm very business skilled, I'm very creative about marketing and I can think very well and also very deep without doing much effort, I didn't "learn" this, this is just a part of me. Obviously, you guys receive countless of applications saying they love marketing and that they are good at it but I sincerely mean it and I can adapt myself to any given marketplace.

I'm very good at grabbing a lot of attention to wherever I want it to be at.

I also have a good sense of humor, I'm not and will never be the type of guy to be serious the whole time, I like joking around, I like sarcasm, I'm not a boring person and I will never be.

I'm not willing to expand this any longer or we'll be getting too personal and that wouldn't be fun but all you really must know is that I have a good sense of humor, I am very interested in online businesses and how to properly set them up. I like discussing about every given topic and I'm a chill dude

Topics that interest you:

- Ecommerce; I'm not talking about the general aliexpress stores that you see on a daily basis and which also fail. No, I'm talking about business which have a $100k+ per year potential. I focus on a lot of stuff, it's not just a simple process, I've been focusing on the tiniest details that you can imagine and I've learned from my mistakes and I can indicate very easily if it's going to work or not. I have contact that I almost talk daily with and they're all ecommerce related, on a higher level. To show you an example, I have a buddy who has made $150k in 11 months I believe and we've discussed a lot about ecommerce.

Marketing is something I enjoy doing too, you get to be creative with what you do and that's where I come in, I easily know how people think and I could be working hours non-stop on a business marketing plan. This 'skill' can be adapted to any marketplace, including hackforums.

- Discussing; I like taking a look at the human mind, I like psychology. I create various different topic on here to see how people think and what kind of reasons they have for what they think is right/wrong. (You may check my threads for this information, to verify.)

As long as you don't argue and keep getting mad the whole time, discussing is completely fine and I personally could go a whole day discussing about a subject.

- Anything interests me, I like the whole concept of this group and I'd like to become a member of it and share my knowledge with the members in it.

- Economy; I absolutely love it, hence why I'm also good at ecommerce.
I love the logic behind it, I love learning about it, I just love economy.

- Designing; I like the design, I find that the design plays a big role in how you present yourself/product. I'm the type of dude who likes it clean, smooth, original and efficient. I do photoshop too, done it for the past 3 years but obviously not VERY serious, definitely more than the average person behind it.

What can you offer:

I'm usually a lot around the lounge and I create popular threads within the section which receive thousands of views, the topics are very interesting to answer or even to just scroll through the answers.

I can teach people how to think and be creative when it comes to selling (digital) goods online or offering services.

Yes, I have been very successful with both.

I can teach the group how people think, I will create multiple interesting topics to also keep the group active since I see group activity as a big factor with the groups these days. ?

I'm not going to call myself a professional but I am definitely way better skilled in marketing/ecommerce than the average person.

I'm very confident that I am and I can assure you that you will like my content and my attitude on the forums. I'm a kind dude and I don't become hurt quick, I'm also willing to keep it alive within the group instead of boring and useless threads which we don't want obviously.

I'm also the owner of a clothing brand at this moment, by the way.

What makes you different:

I can manage being a HQ person, I can be a good help to many people in the group and I am a big fan of discussing interesting topics.

I like sharing new and cool things and most importantly, I'm an active person so I'll keep activity going for sure.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

Oh, yes, that's for sure! I can do way more.

This is definitely not a problem for me, at all.

Like I've mentioned, I can be very active and I will be, the group won't be boring, I'll keep it rolling, on a positive way. ?

Last words?:

No, I just hope that who's currently reading over my application decided to read it carefully instead of in a hurry since I sincerely mean every word I say.

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you: I like to talk about a variety of different topics to both share my knowledge with others and to gain new knowledge from people who are more informed than me. In my free time I like to write songs and stories, play a number of different video games, and read through articles online along with magazines and books.

Topics that interest you: Politics, economics, art culture, film culture, literature, religion, crime, social media, McDonald's, clothing, rap music, hip-hop culture, retail management, anime, body decorations, watches, and podcasting.

What can you offer: I can offer my time, my experience as a member of Hack Forums, my varying levels of knowledge concerning all the topics listed above, my voice, my objectivity when forming and changing opinions, and my generally pleasant attitude.

What makes you different: My sincerity.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day: Yes, as long as the topics mentioned both by myself and in the OP are the subjects of active discussion in the subforum.

Last words?: As a former member of the groups Logic and Void I'd like to emphasize how much I enjoy discussion groups that are populated by smart and interesting people from all walks of life, and I hope that the occult section of the illuminati follows this basis of informed difference between members. Thanks for reading.

Mutes - November 1, 2016, 2:50 pm

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:

I'm 26, from Canada. It's boring here. But I'm not boring. I graduated from college with a computer networking degree years ago, and I took a few years of programming after that, so my computer knowledge is advanced. Which could come in handy in a lot of areas of HF and life. I work full time now doing dispatch and tech support for a cable company.

I'm the type of person who gets offended at nothing. I'm not gonna say I go out of my way to offend people, but there's a good chance I probably won't filter myself, nor will I worry about what anyone says, thinks, or what they have to say about my actions. Not my problem others are sensitive. I don't believe in censorship. I can debate and get my point across, but I also let other people have their say. I respect other people's opinions on certain subjects, and I'm really interested in both perspectives.

When I'm not working, I'm VERY interested in sports. I follow hockey because it's life. I listen to mostly rap, but I grew up on most types of music. I like anything from old music; 50s, 60s, to new music.. Anything except country.

Movies are a huge part of my life. Fun fact: I have a collection of over 3500 movies both VHS and DVD. If you've seen it there's a good chance I have it.

I'm really interested in social media. I have over 16.6k Twitter followers. I've got some by people giving free followers on here, but the majority are real which I've gained from tweetdecks and got on my own. If you need social media help, let me know. I got you.

I'm also vegetarian which most people try to debate with me as to how it's unhealthy. Cool, go for it. I'm open to opinions, but I don't let people sway me and my views.

Topics that interest you:

A few. Out of the ones you mentioned I'd be interested in conspiracies, society, politics, and CIA experiments.

Anything to do with the government is right up my alley. Most people call me a conspiracy theorist because my opinions usually differ on events that happen. I form a logical opinion based on evidence I am/am not presented with. I form my opinions based on said event based on research I do. People don't think the government is involved with an event? Great. That's their opinion. They are a conspiracy theorist too because they're presented with evidence (usually by the media in this case) and form their own opinion. Mine will probably differ, so be it.

Society is stupid, and I hate it. It's interesting at where society is these days though which is the interesting part. I guess society and politics can go hand-in-hand. I mean look at America... Two complete idiots running for president. And they're ok with that. That shows you the competence of society these days.

For real though.. If anyone wants to debate conspiracies I can go all day. I'll listen to your opinion, and you can listen to mine.

What can you offer:

I can offer knowledge, advice, time, and dedication to the group. I can offer my views on certain subjects, and the right direction to go in certain things. I can offer respectful opinions on what people believe in.

What makes you different:

What makes me different is the fact that I don't really care in general. I mean look at the world these days... Everyone gets offended by everything. I don't. I am the complete opposite of the world's view on how things should be done, and said. I'm ok with that. That's how it should be. I'll straight up say my opinion on something, then not worry about the reaction it causes where everyone else takes time to filter themselves.

Like I said I'm vegetarian. Right there is an example of being different from most people.

I don't worry about other people's opinions of me, nor should anyone else. Tyler The Creator said "Do what the fuck makes you happy, cause at the end, who's there? You.."

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

Sure? If someone can't they have no place here. The last few days though my phone has been broken so I haven't got on HF much recently. Fixing it soon. If I know of time where I won't be able to get on, I'll let someone in the group know.

Last words?:

None? This isn't an obituary.

Topics that interest you:

Hacking, cracking, sql, bots, fats, ect... Anything tech and hacking related really.

What can you offer:

I've been in a lot of groups and know how they work and what to contribute to make the group better/successful. Plus I can do graphics and web design if the group needs it.

What makes you different:

I'm not a kid and don't play bullshit.

I'm A? . As is apparent from my profile I've been on this forum for quite some time now (over 6 years). So far I've mostly been a lurker because of the overwhelming abundance of trolls on this platform.

Yeah, it's really difficult to have a decent discussion if the opposition continually reverts to ad hominem and non-sequitur arguments. I digress.

I'm a man of logic and reason. That's pretty much all there is to say about moi.

Topics that interest you:

Psychology, behavioral science, networking, music (composing and producing), game development

What can you offer:

Education-wise I have two science degrees (in physics and chemistry) but I'm currently working in tech. In the past I've worked in the R&D sector of a big pharma company. So I do have some credence in the hard sciences. That doesn't mean however that I'm not interested in the occult. Many of my friends and relatives are freemasons, so I am well-versed in occult literature and customs. I've also studied Ogham and Runes since 7th grade (which has proven to be quite a useful skill for the last two Cicada puzzles)

What makes you different:

I have a certified genius IQ Spoiler (Click to View) http://s1.bild.me/bilder/030315/7923576iqresults_-anon.jpg (for obvious reasons concerning my anonymity on this platform I've obfuscated my last name). Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:
Yeah, that's definitely doable.

Here are some of the many things that interest me that brought me to Hackforums originally,
Making Money (not eBooks)

Coding

Internet Security

Marketing

Forming a stable business (Some think I am crazy for this one, but I have seem some HF members make really good money, again not eBooks)

Making friends

What can you offer:

Besides helping Illumanti members with possible coding related projects for free, I am help to help the community like I already do but rocking a Illumanti group. Currently I am going to be hosting an upgrade giveaway, but besides that in the past I have given away various things such as Keybase invitations (Gave away 100 invites, <http://prntscr.com/d3y8qp>, most if not to HF Members), I gave away 3/4 Shatter Skies keys to users. But besides that I love to help in any way I can with anything from Currency Exchange to advice with life.

What makes you different:

Besides loving technology, and reading hours on end about various topics, I love to learn I dont know if a lot of members here do but I surely do. I am very dedicated and I take pride in the things I do and accomplish.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:
yes easily I plan on being very active in the group area.

Last words?:

knowledge is the best power and power is what we all strive for.

Tell me about you: My name is Arixs, and I am just your average HF user. I am 19, and I am a college freshman going into Business Law. I spend a lot of my free time on the computer, and with that, comes a lot of free time to be on HF. Off the computer, I enjoy soccer,

Topics that interest you: The topics that really interest me the most are science, politics, war, computers, technology, phones, firearms, law, and religion.

What can you offer: I can bring lots of HQ threads and discussions to the SF, as well as an active member. I also do giveaways inside of groups every once and a while. I also usually read through every thread, so I'll be making lots of posts.

What makes you different: Nothing really makes me different than any other users, other than what I will discuss, and what sort of posts I can make, and who I actually am as a person. Sorry if this isn't the answer you were looking for. Don't know what else to say.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day: Yes I can do all of those things you just listed, and more than that, too.

Last words?: Sorry for the short application, didn't really see anything that would require a lengthy reply.

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:

I am big with gfx, like to keep up with trends.

I am quite a big sneakerhead, but I like to get shoes at a cheap price. I listen to hip hop, and electric music.

I would like to begin creating music. I like doing this with friends, I am not big on sports or anything, but I do moderately keep up with football, and I like to smoke with buddy's. I am also a web developer.

Topics that interest you:

I am interested in fashion, and music.

I also like to keep up with doxing, stress testing, pen testing, and net's.

I am currently excited to see what comes out of today's election. I am interested in gfx, as I like to do it. I am interested in drugs, and alcohol. I am a vavid anime fan. I am interested in coding html, css, jquery, and javascript.

What can you offer:

I am not surprisingly special in anything, but I can bring in some good marketing skills, and some good reputation to the Illuminati group, I can create unique ideas for the group such as an irc channel.

I am able to code website's for the official group, or it's members.

What makes you different:

I like to think that I am a unique guy, and that I have creative ideas.

I almost never get in any argument's with hf members, and I respect pretty much everyone. I like to make other people happy, and do things for them even if it cost's money.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

Yes, I can.

I'm a generally chill person with interest in other's beliefs as well as my own. I don't generally get mad at anyone and personally think I'm chill. I play sports and video games in and out of the HF community even though I'm not really known at all. I live in the USA and have never sadly left the country. I hope to soon though. Sports is the main thing I enjoy with the "interwebz" being second.

Topics that interest you:

I am interested in tons of topics, but I'll try to shorten it so you don't get a migraine.

Gods/Goddesses: Ever since the 4th grade this was interesting to me as different cultures had a representation of how life worked and revolved.

History: I love to learn about how ancient and not so ancient societies lived and function and how they did it.

Technology: Everything tech has always been interesting to me, not so much coding and development, but spiffy little gadgets that get stuff done.

Gaming: Mobile, PC, and Console. I started out playing console games at the age of like 7 on a GameBoy. My favorite genre is FPS, but I am trying to get into league of legends. Counter-Strike is too fun.

Culinary Arts: Cooking has always been an interest of mine, even though I can't do it for the life of me it is still fun to do. xD

What can you offer:

I'm by no way good at it, but I can offer extremely Basic "GFX". I'm always willing to talk and try to help people whenever needed. I try to help to the best of my ability whenever I can. I'm not the smartest person every, but I can keep my calm and get a point across when needed. You won't have to ask me to do something twice. Reliability is one of the things I attempt to take pride in.

What makes you different:

I'm never easily offended and I love to have conversations about things not every one would be interested in (not in a weird way sry).

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:

I am in most regards humble and quiet. I enjoy my personal space and I do not have many 'friends' outside of the online world and I prefer this. I think that the best relationships are ones that benefit both parties equally and equally being what both parties deem fit. I am someone who tries to be as honest and as fair as possible in my dealings as this is the same treatment I hope for in return. I have experienced a lot of hardships in my years. This has made a somewhat cold individual, however I am not unapproachable in any way. I love to help people. I love to be challenged. I enjoy learning new things by enduring hardships and challenges. Knowledge is everything. I wish to acquire many skills in a variety of fields. I also wish to contribute all that I can to help those who share similar interests. Basically what I have learned in life is that even if you are alone you can always make something of yourself without looking to anyone else but that doesn't mean that you shouldn't seek the guidance and company of like minded individuals when available.

Topics that interest you:

Art, Fashion, Design, Social Media, Business Management, Programming, Gaming, Music, Society, Politics.

What can you offer:

I am confident I can offer artistic input to the group without doubt and I believe that I can be a positive and active member within the group. I believe I would also be a good representative of the group within the community.

What makes you different:

I think that we all exist differently within the individual who is perceiving us, so fairly I believe that what makes me different, is different for everyone.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

I'm active daily so this is not a problem.

Punisher - November 10, 2016, 11:01 am

~Illuminati Occult Application

Tell me about you:

Hello, I am Error.

I have been a member of HackForums since early 2008, and joined in 2009, it's been 8 and a half years since I first discovered this site. I have seen so many interesting people come and go from this forum, and I have learned so much in my journey of discovery. I am 23 years old but feel much much older, I enjoy having intellectual discussions with others and brainstorming ideas that could change the world. I spend my free time expanding my knowledge of "forbidden" information on a number of subjects as I truly believe knowledge is power.

Topics that interest you:

I enjoy a wide array of topics, first and foremost Hacking. Another one of the most fascinating topics that interests me is the Illuminati. I first heard about the Illuminati back in 2012 and didn't think much of it until late 2014 when I began noticing the signs in everyday life. I've spent the past few years researching the Illuminati and how many conspiracies can be tied back to its ideology or its members. I even created a facebook page a few years ago that I can offer your group if accepted. I enjoy discussing extraterrestrial life and the possibility of advancing human life in many different ways. I do not care to discuss politics or religion that much as it is a very sore subject for many, and as I previously stated I enjoy having intellectual discussions which can be difficult when talking about politics/religion. I like talking about mind control and subliminal messaging, viral advertising, and ways to manipulate the human mind.

I'll talk about anything and everything to be honest.

What can you offer:

I can offer a wide range of skills I've developed over the past 10 - 15 years. I've been using computers and technology since a very young age - I learned to use a mouse and keyboard before I could write. I am a hacker at heart, and if it exists it can be exploited. I have a large amount of knowledge about the Illuminati and how they work, as well as knowledge about how manipulation of the mind works. My previous job was marketing for a legal recreational Marijuana store and I earned them $30,000+ in sales each month using the skills I previously mentioned.

I feel I would be a huge asset to your group.

What makes you different:

I have noticed that there isn't one specific thing that makes me different, but everything about me is different than the average person.

I think outside of the confines of society. I do not let others influence my thoughts.

I stand up for the rights of those who cannot stand for themselves.

I right the wrongs of others through any means necessary.

I am a truther, a spreader of knowledge, a light in the darkness.

Can you keep up to a minimum of at least one post/thread a day:

Of course, I would go above and beyond to make sure I share my accumulative knowledge with the chosen few. I want to share what I have learned since first starting my journey on the internet many many years ago. If accepted, expect at least 3 giveaways and 3 tutorials a week to be posted in the group, and 1 or 2 giveaways for the public to show how generous the Illuminati can be.

Last words?:

You'll never hear the last of me.

This is not the end, this is just the beginning.

Thank you for taking the time to read my application.

I look forward to being an active member of the Illuminati.

Age: 19
Questions:
What are the questions I am required to ask supposed to be based on? I have no need to ask myself questions where I am expecting an answer from myself. I have been lost in thought several times in the past three months, but I was not asking myself questions for which the answer I already knew of. Answer to Question 1: I have no answer to that question of mine. I can type anything here as a representation of an "answer" and regardless of what I type, someone will be able to interpret it as a valid answer. More commonly, people try to find flaws that they can bitch about and turn the blame away from them even if the "prosecutor" is even the slightest bit "correct". However with today's issues, "correct" can be interpreted so many different ways there is no point in trying to argue with anyone.

Political Affiliation: If this is in reference to the 2016 election, I didn't vote. I consider myself a republican but I did not want to be responsible for whatever would have come from Trump or Hillary, good or bad.

Sexual Orientation: Heterosexual

Sex: Male

What is God to you? The man up in the sky that I was taught to worship and praise throughout my life.

Religion: Christian, I presume. I haven't been to any religious worship center in over two years.

In one sentence, describe yourself: That one student that always keeps to himself except when in situations where he can make money, either legitimately or by exploiting the person(s) paying.

My "answers" to the bonus questions, whatever they are:

From whence came you? Depends on if you believe in reincarnation or not. Personally, my life began at conception. My journey did not initially start until I somehow was given the ability to remember and recall.

I greet you well brother what is your name? There are two commas missing in that question. One between "well" and "brother" and the other between "brother" and "what". However my understanding of English grammar leads me to believe that a period should be placed instead of a comma in the latter.

How shall I know you are a Mason? If you're doing something you don't want other people, namely the public, to know, you don't tell anyone. Thus, you will never know.

How were you made a Mason? Same answer as above.

How stands a Lodge? Freely.

How many Lights in a Lodge? If these are references to the Freemasons, I have no clue. And even if they are not, I still cannot come to a conclusion based on fact because I do not know anything about said "Lodge".

What are they? Everything.

Who is Master of all Lodge's? Each individual member.

Questions:

Q1: What was your most life changing event? A: Honestly probably the first time I tried magic mushrooms, I was 18 me and my two best friends tried it and I had very little knowledge of the power of these little suckers. Prior to doing them my friends explained to me how nothing bad can truly happen, death, etc. So we smoked a blunt prior and we took about 1g a piece and drank a cup of orange juice (Vitamin C enhances the effect). I remember about 30 minutes I didn't feel anything and then BAM it hit me I was on my floor of my basement felling all warm tripping, then my trip started to turn bad I was seeing my self about 40-60 times spinning and puking it was awful. Ultimately it ended up to be a great trip (no pun intended) I felt and believed there was greater power in the world.

Q2: What can you bring to the table? A: I personally love to give back to HF, as I make more I give back more its my going life philosophy. I am a strong believer in good karma when it comes to success, as success isn't measured by your bank size but what you did to get your success. Besides giveaway I have experience in a lot of various area's such as business, web development, internet security and much more!

Q3: What originally brought you to hackforums? A: The main reason I came to HF was due to the fact I wanted to expand my knowledge of web developing, little did I know that area of the forums seems kinda dead :c. I quickly found other reasons to stay obviously and I have been here a little over 100 days and have learned so much, like never buy an eBook, Don't use bustabits, and paypal is the devil.

Q4: What type of Web Development do you do? A: I have been developing website's for a little over 4 years currently I focus primarily on front end but I am slowly expanding into a full stack developer, I will be working with both front and back side of the website. I have experience in a lot of various languages and frameworks, the ones I primarily use right now are Javascript, NodeJS, PHP(Laravel), and I am learning Angular and React as we speak.

Q5: Favorite Alcohol? A: Jack Daniels

Political Affiliation: I'm usually strongly republican, but I am open to all views and ideas. For example with this election, I ended up voting for Trump not based off his policies but his business practices I felt the United States needed to be ran as a business oppose to as a country. I would of loved Garry Johnson to win but as we all know with previous history we are many years from another party winning.

Sexual Orientation: I have always been straight, but I respect everyone regardless of Sex, religion, etc. We are all humans.

Sex: Male

What is God to you? God to me is in all honestly nothing, I am the type of guy who is biased off facts not belief when it comes to something that may have such a huge impact on my life. I respect everyone who believes in religion but I would love to talk and debate it with a hard core religious person.

Religion: This question is truly hard for me I personally do not believe in the or follow a specific religion. This is what I believe I believe us human have in fact evolved over time, but I do believe in a higher power, this believe originated from when I first did Magic Mushrooms. I personally do not feel we got to a heaven or hell but we get reincarnated as an animal.

In one sentence, describe yourself. I am a young, dedicated individual who is open minded but I love semantics, and love to debate but not argue.

Final words, Thank You Bane for answering all my questions earlier and allowing me to technically re-apply if you have any questions for me please do not hesitate to private message me!

I know there are many groups currently recruiting but you wouldn't want to miss your chance to get in the Occult. Remember that buying into Illuminati will not grant you access to this sector unless you apply and get recruited.

?ane - November 16, 2016, 11:12 am

Still looking for more applications, really great sector to get in to.

Fortunate - November 16, 2016, 11:34 am

One of the greatest groups I have been in to. Looking for more applications. This is definitely worth the shot.
