Why is the avatar in the postbit not centered? This hurts me.

Apparently, this is a major issue. It's centered for some and not for the others. It's probably because of your monitor/screen size. We're still finding a way to fix this issue. Sorry. ?

I've got a standard 1920x1080 screen resolution. You really need to look into fixing that. :/

WikiBoy - November 2, 2016, 5:10 am

I think you only have got that problem. See mine one :-

shop1126 - November 2, 2016, 7:11 am

Looks like a really cool forum! I joined because of the giveaway but it looks like there is a really active community and a ton of cool awards.

I'll be sticking around.

Really great to hear that man. We've also fixed the issues with the postbit. ?

zippy4blu - November 2, 2016, 2:22 pm

Best forum around. Awesome Community. Love it

Arctic Monkeys - November 2, 2016, 2:22 pm

I am in this site and it's fucking cool.

just by sorting all of the members by post count, and adding all of the post counts together on the first page has added up to over two thirds of their posts.

if you're gonna flame the thread of every general forum that isn't yours, because you believe yourself above others because you copied the idea of a community that doesn't care about rep/join date (while having no evidence of you actually making this a reality, quite the opposite in fact), at least do it right.

yes, OP's forum is shit, but you don't have to make up horseshit to point it out, here's a few things you could've used instead modified ripped theme - moron can't even afford a theme, why the hell is he holding a giveaway?

stupid clipboard hijacking that injects a bunch of horseshit onto your keyboard while you're trying to copypaste the post counts of every user into a text file user stat box that shows for users that aren't even logged in good things:uses my Lock plugin for hide tags

Future Changes:

1. New custom made theme. (Custom profile, postbit, statistics and index pages)
2. Custom plugins.
3. New features.
4. New domain name. A name change.

This is all in something we call, Awesome Forums V2.

So is there any main theme to the forum or can you just talk about anything?
