Thread: Proxy Selling Allowed

Omniscient - November 2, 2016, 10:55 am

The policy that disallowed proxy selling (selling for a non-member, not upgraded, or one that's banned) is no longer disallowed. The entire policy was designed to remove sales of banned members in SST. Since we no longer have the SST forum I am removing the rule.

New policy is written as this:

Quote:Can I sell for other members?

Yes, we allow partnerships with non-members. If you're selling for an existing member you both cannot advertise the same service or product.

Thank you.

Renowned - November 2, 2016, 10:58 am

Sounds like a good change for the Marketplace.

Geass - November 2, 2016, 10:58 am

Awesome, thanks for letting us know.

I wanted few weeks ago proxies and couldn't find, will be useful in the feature.

Not proxies. Selling for a member that can't post in the marketplace

Edit: I wanted proxies a few weeks ago and couldn't find them. Will be useful in the future.*

You didn't properly understand what I typed.

Proxy Selling - The act of selling for someone else.

b?xxy - November 2, 2016, 11:01 am

I never thought this would ever be allowed tbh.

Interesting update.

M?xim - November 2, 2016, 11:01 am

Ah. Neat update. Many people will for sure appreciate this.

Interesting update.

It was seriously though only added because of SST. So there isn't a real reason for me to enforce it anymore. It's something that's difficult to enforce site-wide. It's really not even worth doing so.

This site is complex and one change can easily create a ripple effect of other changes.

Steve - November 2, 2016, 11:15 am

Glad to see you updating rules based on the removal of SST. The closing of some resources opens the door to others.

Jordana Brewster - November 2, 2016, 11:15 am

This is a nice change, time to look for partnerships :D

B?ker - November 2, 2016, 11:20 am

Good to hear omni! Thank you for this brother!

I never even knew that it was solely for that.

Thought it was to avoid ban evading POS's, etc.

Thanks.

Description - November 2, 2016, 11:24 am

This is a really cool update tbh. I didn't think this would be allowed.

Also, didn't know it was only because SST section.

Good to hear, thank you.

There hasn't really been a word about it for a long time, but in a few threads from 2014 Omniscient explains why.

Omni, a great step forward for the marketplace. Thanks.

(I guess you saw the thread where I was arguing with Soulmate?)

Omniscient - November 2, 2016, 11:30 am

They were mostly doing it for SST. The section required Ub3r so often they'd find a dupe partner to do their sales after I banned them. They also tried to use partners for Paypal holding. The whole thing has always been a problem and that's why I separated it and that's why it's now gone permanently.

Marshmallow - November 2, 2016, 11:32 am

Seems like it will be useful. ?

My cat is trying to get under the sheets as I'm writing this.

The Illusionist - November 2, 2016, 11:33 am

Does this mean we'll be allowed to create partnerships with users even if they're not allowed to post in that particular section?

Yes it does.

Stixio - November 2, 2016, 11:34 am

Thanks for making this thread Omni, made a thread about this yesterday!
Thanks.

Davy - November 2, 2016, 11:34 am

Seems like a good change. I can see this working for the better.

Heart - November 2, 2016, 11:43 am

This should open up a lot of opportunities for members. Thanks.:)

Ambien - November 2, 2016, 12:05 pm

Awesome update, thanks for the new rule.

'Suicide - November 2, 2016, 12:20 pm

New members will enjoy this, time to refer some members.

Wakka - November 2, 2016, 12:26 pm

Thanks, I guess... Could be useful for some.

Yoshikage Kira - November 2, 2016, 12:29 pm

Hi, i'm -21 rep so I can't post in the marketplace. Could I get a l33t friend to sell for me or would that be considered disallowed as i'm not allowed to create a thread?

BTCEXchangez - November 2, 2016, 12:29 pm

Good that you allowed this. There were always members who were accepting non-upgraded members to work for their stressers. Now that you deleted the SST section is a good thing to allow for the community.

minimalist - November 2, 2016, 3:38 pm

Very nice...very nice indeed.

Minato Namikaze - November 2, 2016, 3:40 pm

I had a few opportunities to do this but didn't because of the rule.
Glad I might be able to do it later down the line now :)

mvmt - November 2, 2016, 3:41 pm

Glad to see this rule revoked, I see a lot of new members struggle to get sales simply because of their profile.

FiftyTwo - November 2, 2016, 3:42 pm

Great new rule; will open up opportunities for many. ?

Varane - November 2, 2016, 3:47 pm

This seems very interesting, can't wait to see how this turns out.

Cara Delevingne - November 2, 2016, 3:54 pm

This seems cool, thank you for informing us.

Granny Bacon - November 2, 2016, 4:01 pm

Oh yeah! Time to look for a partner to sell some products.

Thank you for this change Omni.

Energy Wizard - November 2, 2016, 4:03 pm

I'm scared this is going to end up becoming an excuse for scams.

"I didn't scam you, it was my friend! He is the one who did x-y-z!"

Marshmallow - November 2, 2016, 5:58 pm

(Nov 2, 2016 05:56 PM)- Sam - Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Not necessarily. If two members are in partnership to sell a product both members will be reliable.

Armada - November 2, 2016, 7:38 pm

Thank you for the clarification.

eCoLoGy - November 2, 2016, 8:08 pm

Very good news indeed for the community! ?

Undefined - November 3, 2016, 2:28 am

Great news. Happy this was implemented.

Stole - November 3, 2016, 4:54 am

I think this being removed would be good for the long run of the marketplace, but could cause some complications with more scams .etc (we'll just have to see)

Autist - November 3, 2016, 5:49 pm

Sick, thanks for this mate!

aguila - November 3, 2016, 6:38 pm

Would I be allowed to open a service thread to proxy sell in the online account section for a percent of the money now that the rule is no longer in place?

Eternal. - November 3, 2016, 6:52 pm

Interesting that you removed the SST section, but overall a welcome change. Especially with how much heat stressers have been getting recently. Glad to see the rule changed as well, new opportunities to make money.

Regulus - November 3, 2016, 6:53 pm

This is some amazing news.

Thank you so much Omniscient!

Truth - November 3, 2016, 6:57 pm

Great, I always got offers to partner up with people but never considered because of this rule, also most were bad so I would never put my name on it lol

Anyways, thanks for the update Omni :)

Who Soup - November 3, 2016, 6:58 pm

Good change, always good to hear positive news.

Thanks Omni

DONT USE ROCKETR - November 3, 2016, 7:00 pm

IPIKIN - November 3, 2016, 7:01 pm

This is awesome news. Thanks for the update.

Grim - November 3, 2016, 8:08 pm

Very nice update. Just want to clarify we're not allowed to sell for banned members or partner with banned members still right?

Armada - November 3, 2016, 11:54 pm

Er, interesting update, but thanks for the heads up.

Does not affect me directly, however good to know. ?

Cyrus - November 4, 2016, 10:40 am

Proxy selling = Selling for someone else.

Armada - November 11, 2016, 7:14 pm

So, just curious, with removal of the SST section, are we allowed to advertise SST services if they are proxy, or no?

Ambien - November 11, 2016, 10:35 pm

I don't think you'll be able to.

'OverSight - November 11, 2016, 11:05 pm

So if someone was banned for Proxy-selling in the past would they be allowed to come back? (Not in the SST section)
