Hello I wonder if there is something to improve your overall quality of youtube videos. I don't know if you got what I ment to say cuz of my crappy english. I ment how to impress people experience from watching your videos for explample changing your voice during some special events, like fighting a boss in gameplay video. Doing some graphic pop ups, doing some special cutting etc.

What are your ideas ? What would you do ?

Be unique and offer something that nobody else is currently offering.

Think to yourself, would you watch your own videos if you didn't make them?

Quality over quantity that's the best. Just make quality. You should do alot of research. Look at casey neistat as example.

There are lots of things, you can all find them by doing a google search.

However here are a few things:

- Intro
- Good gear
- Not laggy

I completely agree. Without a decent intro you're probably not going to get viewers.
