Quote:A distorted, endlessly black darkness.

The location where the dark swallowed everything and took everything from us has become known as the Lightless Realm.

Born there, as if they were mirror images of the despair and chaos humans felt, were aberrations.

They were called Admonitions.

An investigation of the Lightless Realm that eats away at the human psyche. Can a group of eight boys and girls gathered in an effort to combat the Admonitions see the light of the future beyond the Lightless Realm, while their past destinies and dangerous present intertwine in a complicated web?

Season(s): 1

Episode(s): 24

Started watching it because the setting appealed to me (school teens with special abilities, mecha, supernatural, etc.). The opening and closing are also quite good (the music is at least) and decided to give it a go. On Episode 5 so far and it hasn't let me down that much or else.

Dang has 38k members on MAL, and I have never heard of it. Doesn't have the best rating, but I will probably give it a go.

I'll add it for now. Seems like many complained that its hard to get into initially since the plot is a bit confusing but will give it a watch eventually ;)

I was always interested in this, took me a while to find a good copy to DL a while back then I watched the first episode or two, and ended up watching some other series. I mean it wasn't boring or anything i just moved on to something else and planned to come back one day. I probably should return and watch it. It's definately very dark in colors.

Will give it a go tonight if I have time. Thanks for sharing.

Alright, just finished it. The story is good, the plot too. Though I feel like there's way too many things that remains unanswered, the way the story goes can be confusing at times and some of the characters' aspects can be really cringe worthy. I didn't hate it, but it's not the Anime you should watch right away if you want something good.
