Here is my internet speed without using the VPN:

Now while using the VPN (On the best server for me.):

For me this is very GREAT!

I can definately recommend this VPN to anyone! :D

Web interface (& website): 9/10

Very clean, I love Google's material design.

Ease of use: 7/10

A little bit confusing to find out that you get a different username and password than you registered with to login on the VPN, but other than that it's perfect.

Very fast to setup (OpenVPN) and use.

Speed: 9/10

20/15 Mbits up/down, very nice, have compared it to one other same priced VPN and it's about the same.

My connecting speed is 150/15.

Price: 10/10

A dollar per month, oh wait, even less right now.

Locations: 7/10

8 Servers with 2 of them in UK, it's definatly more than enough for what I need but could always use some nice sounding exotic locations ?

Total: 8.5/10

A very nice and cheap VPN service, what more can you ask for?

Good luck with sales!

There is currently 2 vouch copies available, each of them giving you a 1-3 day subscription for free. Request for it in thread or by PMing me.

Read the bottom of the thread for further information

The network speed of a few of our locations \(Click to View\) updated last: 20/11/2016

Terms of Service (basic):

you will automatically agree to these terms upon registering on my website or negotiating any deal(s) regarding this service.

- 1) Refunds will only be given within my discretion within the first week of your payment. That's final.
- 2) Any abuse of my service that shows disrespect of the official Terms of Service will have your account terminated with no refunds.
- 3) If you are given a vouch copy, you MUST post an honest review of your experience on this thread (not just a few words, make it count).
- 4) I can change this terms at any given time with no further notice. It is your responsibility to check back here for updated/new ToS.

Locations can be added by request, simply use contact options below to ask. I'm happy to cater to any needs based on demand. In addition to that, I refuse to saturate any of my servers. If I notice a larger amount of traffic on one location, I will add a second server for the same location to help balance out reliability and network speed. On another note, for those of you who consider the prices somewhat expensive compared to other services, once I get a steady customer base and a certain amount of income, I will be decreasing prices by up to 30% on the smaller deals. It just depends on how many people order.

I will ALSO mention that before you start to quote my thread and quote me on what I promise with the support, I am only ONE person and I need to sleep, inconveniently I'm in another timezone as most of you, so for reference, do not expect me to be available GENERALLY between the times of 12:00PM and 8AM

Australian Eastern Time Zone - UTC+10:00

NOTICE:

If you have any issues with the service, do first contact me to resolve any issues before taking further action, I will never ignore people if they need anything.

BTC payments will have to be applied manually for the time being due to IPN issues (PayPal autobuy is working perfectly fine), just contact me with your Transaction ID & Login once you've purchased and I'll add your plan to your account. Contact details @ bottom of thread.

I recommend connecting to my services using just a simple OpenVPN client, of which you can find with a google search. I will however recommend this nice little open-source GUI client that I've found works nicely and looks a bit better and has some admirable cross-compatibility: Check our Pritunl here.

Vermin'TM - February 5, 2017, 8:04 pm

I need to inform everyone of some things that have gone down recently.

As far as I can see, the service will not be continuing as I've got too much going on outside of the project.

I've recently moved house, I'm on a very, very limited income and the running costs have overcome me, as the budget was quote low, yet so was the income for the most part.

I've not got an internet connection at my new place, I'm currently visiting my old house and I've come on here to clear things up, as it's not fair to the people who have had no access.

I simply cannot afford with my real life situation to hold things down, the running costs have overwhelmed me and I cannot do much about that.

As for the people who have placed chargebacks against my name, I'm sorry but whether you win the case or not, it pains me to remind you that I cannot even give anything to PayPal, I'm close to being in debt with the bank because my rent is not cheap, I'm living alone in a single income with fixed work hours which provide hardly any income whatsoever.

I will not be able to provide refunds at the current time, that does not however mean they will never be issued. I'm assuring any customers that were active and still had any time left will be compensated 100% for the money they paid, however NOW is not the time where I can provide this for people. I do not want my reputation ruined because of this, but odds are it will be.

A message to those few of you who reached out in hopes to purchase or take over this project, I'm open to all offers right now if you believe you could take this project in a different direction and hopefully redeem it, and with any funds obtained from any deal will be used as a priority to reimburse any users that didn't get what they paid for.

I'm sincerely sorry for the promises made and the inactivity, there was little I could do at the time and there still is. For some time I will not have a connection for the foreseeable future, but when I do I will refund to resolve any of these issues. For the next few days I'll be here to try and contact people back and attempt to resolve any outstanding issues, but that's as much as I can provide to you all for now.

Thanks for understanding, for the time being, I will close this thread once I leave this house and I'll return whenever possible.

Sorry again fellas.
