Thread: Found a super good unique niche on youtube!

GamingFTWHD - November 19, 2016, 1:19 am

I guys! I don't know if this is really bragging but it has never happened to me b4 so I thought I would share it!

So a week ago I made a brand new channel just to try a new niche I found. I uploaded a few videos and without promoting or anything on a brand new channel most of them have over 1K views and 1 has almost 2K. I can't make money using adsense from them though, so would like to ask if anybody know a way to monetize my niche if I can't make adsense money from it? Thanks ?

Depends on the niche, you can try getting sponsors and you can sell your own extra content. For more ideas you will need to pm me more information.

Anybody know anything? The niche is super easy to rank as almost nobody uses tags and alot of people search for it. I am getting subscribers and I already have more than 10K views!

Your best bet to make money is to join a network. A good one i was apart of is called Freedom. They have tutorials online of how to join them. It will cut out having to use adsense to make money. Pm if you want a more in depth explanation.

I know lol but like I have said I can't earn money from adsense which means I can't earn from any network

Sign up to a CPA network and create a new video about an offer pertaining to your niche.

I would recommend you use CPAGrip \(click here\) for this process.

I've earned money with them and cashed out, they're legit.
