Thread: Any actual active forums?

ISNIC - November 21, 2016, 11:10 pm

There are a ton of forums here that I'm looking at but none of them really have much activity. Seems like I can only find like two forums that are active and HF being one of them. I'm just looking for another community to join but with at least 20 - 25 active members often.

Any suggestions?

What type of community are you looking for? I know quite a few. One of which is pretty active. NulledBB.com

If you're into anime and don't wanna join a community that'll die after a couple of months; Lewd has been up since 2014.

Code 11 users active in the past 15 minutes (5 members, 0 of whom are invisible, and 4 guests).

Baidu, Google, BRAHN ?, Dropzaw, Hype, KillerSavage, Resize

Yeeah, I don't know about that one buddy. Doesn't really meet OP's criteria.

You shut the forum down already? How are you gonna be an admin of a forum and be so impatient? Yikes.

Feel free to check out: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5363700>

Considerably active, however I'll be pushing some solid advertisements out soon to hopefully get 1200-members active within a 24hr period.
