Thread: In search of HQ Web design + Web developer package

Negus0 - November 22, 2016, 7:14 pm

I have had some success with finding great web designers and web developers here so I am giving it a shot again. I have two phases that need to be completed. Multiple people can do these phases, or one can. I need a high quality job done. No ifs, ands, or buts.

The job entails:

Phase one - one page detailing that my business will be switching domains as well as company name (company name + domain is yet to be chosen). I have a portfolio of my work that I want to show on this page as well in a creative way. This will require mostly web design skills.

Phase Two - New company logo, domain, and website. 5 pages total with an about page, contact form, portfolio, services provided, and possibly a schedule/appointment page.

I want phase one of my website done as soon as possible. Preferably in the next week.

I will take my time finding my candidate for phase 2. I want this job done by January the latest

Please first post on my thread, and then PM me with your portfolio and a little bit about yourself and your work.

Payment via PP or BTC

Let's make some money ? ?
