any suggestions ?

Nyxuo - November 23, 2016, 5:14 am

I like this one. Shading/Highlights are more consistent and I feel it all comes together pretty well. Maybe move THE ---> a little bit as it's really close to the edge right now.

I came here to give you constructive criticism but can't think of any to give you
It's really well done, I'd move THE to the left a little bit and extend that grey area just how I'd compose it myself, but it's really well done.

This part throws off the scheme. I feel like it's just a blob of color.
The colors in the image are all that I can really say that I dislike.
However, the image I linked about feels out of place.

Tbh it looks fucking great man! Good job. 9.5/10 summerghost - November 24, 2016, 7:50 am

Looks great to me! Why not make the outer black line a bit thinner?

I'd say move the "THE" text to the left a bit, outline it in white or whatever color the other text is, then surround the text with gray, if you get what I'm saying. Looks great otherwise, keep it up!

Looks amazing! keep up the great work!

Yakama - December 11, 2016, 8:50 am

This looks amazing, any purpose behind the logo or is it for a client or something, but besides that amazing work and keep it up!

AvessoVision - December 11, 2016, 9:05 am

THE* text part really throws the whole logo off, because you have Bandits filled with effects and the upper text is misplaced and looks like it's pasted from another work in there. Does not fit. You could try to play with the text placement and add effects to the whole text. You should also fix the eye, the shape is not appealing. Same goes for the tip of the hat. You have his nose that it's sharp and the hat is flat. You have edges everywhere so try to maintain that work flow. Want to see updates.

Cheers.
