Thread: I have Posts in the Staff Discussion Section? O_o

Mark Zuckerberg - November 23, 2016, 1:34 pm

So I was looking at my "Post Activity" and scrolled to the bottom and noticed I somehow had a post in the "Staff Discussion" section. What does this mean? How and/or why is my post in the staff discussion?

One of your posts was probably accidentally moved there, or the admins might have changed the Section ID possibly.

Looks like you're becoming a staff member gg.

inb4 user is actually lowkey staff member.

Deathy - November 23, 2016, 1:55 pm

Maybe one of your posts was moved there? Perhaps it was used in discussion, just a guess.

I have it too. I'm sure there are more members with this "issue". But really, it doesn't even matter why it's there...

I wonder what goes on over there.

That's not possible it's FID=22 and no other sections have used that, you can even check the wiki.

oscast - November 23, 2016, 8:36 pm

Well everyone I have checked so far has it..

Vitani's Mate - November 23, 2016, 8:37 pm

I think it is normal since I have posts that are in sections that I have never ever posted on.

I would say post get moved around very frequently. I am not sure it is automatically done or not.

Hey there.

I too have the same thing, 1 post in staff section

Paradoxum - November 23, 2016, 9:31 pm

You have posts in it because (public) threads are sometimes moved in the said forum for discussion.
