If this is true that's insane.

Not many of us have 125 Bitcoins to start with though so haha.

But congrats if it's true :)

This.

Also, he seems to have invested at perfect times, I doubt this is true.

If I'm wrong, sorry, well done. Show proof though.

I would really love to see some gifs.

?Skwiid - November 23, 2016, 11:33 pm

Can't really expect us to believe its true unless you provide valid proof.

test - November 23, 2016, 11:35 pm

Provide some valid proof and I will happily jerk you off for BTC. Until then no-one is going to believe you, sorry.

idkwtusrnm neg repped for this disgusting low post

skelly76 - November 25, 2016, 4:42 pm

Show me the money in your bank account OP. Cryptos are unreliable, get that shit transferred then I'll believe.

Audi R8 - November 25, 2016, 8:36 pm

"Now, after a year, BTC is $750 each, so I have $5400000."

if you have 5.4 million what are you still doing here

Raph777 - November 27, 2016, 2:08 am

This is dope if its true, however I doubt anyone on this forum is going to believe you are a millionaire unless you show proof of earnings in a GIF.

Windows 98 - November 27, 2016, 2:10 am

If this is true, that's insanely awesome. I can only dream.

I might need to actually look more into this.

(Dec 24, 2016 12:49 PM)Bitch with Bills in Bits Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Actually it's hard to show off all of the earnings, because for security reasons you know that your wallet regenerates everytime you make a transaction, so showing all of the transactions is impossible. Also, I would never use the same wallet for all of the money(better to use 100 wallets) or give details of each, because after that people could stalk the use. It's better to use some kind of bank ATM to show the money, but there is one problem: Some of the money is as BTC in multiple wallets, some of them are in Ethereum, some of them are as furnitures or investments, some of them are as bonds, some of them are as cash or some of them are on different banks and different bank accounts. I still wait for the day I can show some big proof.

I never thought I would see bigger bullshit than Black Shadow but you proved me wrong.

(Dec 24, 2016 01:03 PM)Bitch with Bills in Bits Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I can show you proof of my bank accounts, though. I host Instant Payment Service in Finland called 'Pikasiirto', so I have multiple bank accounts in 10 banks meaning I have 65 bank accounts at the moment. We have partnered with TF Bank, so we can give loans for people which is what I mean with bonds, etc. Dunno if it is the right word. People send over 5 million through our system monthly and we have 50 000 of active users on our website and every transaction go through automated system meaning that only 20% of the money is on our bank accounts. When people send us money, we exchange it for Bitcoins for over half of the userbase, so we have multiple wallets, too. We don't have straight access for most of the money and I have invested all of my money to banks and our business and Bitcoins and other cryptos because of my system. Now we have partnered with Automatia in Finland and they are going to use our system with Nordea, OP and S-Pankki and we will spread to Europe.

It's just more and more bullshit XD literally, just provide an ounce of proof about anything you've said so far.

through an automated system and I have invested most of my profits in my project. If I exchange Bitcoins for individuals as a service, I can lose money, too. That's why I can't take all of the money for me. Visit at <http://siirto.com/> and <http://pikasiirto.fi/> and <http://coinmotion.com/> - I work for Siirto.com and Bittisiirto Oy and I have partnered with Coinmotion as you see on Pikaosto.fi

Invested most of your money
You need to have proof you invested it, no?

And fuck you for that false reputation. People asked me for a proof and I said that I can tell how I did it and why I can't send you a picture of a bank account, a picture that anybody could manipulate with Photoshop. It doesn't proof anything before I have it on my hand and it's not possible at the moment.

Merry Christmas and fuck you again. I hope that you die under Isis truck tomorrow.
So if you don't have it, you're lying. I can tell you how to rob a bank, but that doesn't mean I've done it.

(Dec 25, 2016 03:55 PM)Bitch with Bills in Bits Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) No, it wasn't about that negative reputation, but harrass and negativity on Christmas which is nothing, but happiness for me. Everyone who are negative or that cruel on Christmas without understanding even if I say something is childish and annoying. I had very nice Christmas with my wife, but your negativity and trolling almost fucked my whole day.

I hate trolls and people like you and that's why I got very upset. It's not the reputation, I don't care about it, actually. Your respect and kindness and your actions was the problem. It's the same thing if someone random says "Fuck you" to me on Christmas, I say him back. I am some kind of perfectionist and even a single annoying person can make my day suck. I hope you understand.

It has nothing to do with my wallet or Hack Forums, but people and their behavior and respect. I just hate people who has something against me even if it's so little thing that it shouldn't even bother me. It's just me. Money doesn't change people or actually it has made me a person who wants everybody to respect me and every little hater makes me want to disrespect them. I can be very nice person, but I can be also an asshole. I don't care about the reputation, because it has nothing to do with me here, but if you say me liar on Christmas and say it public without any proof, you're an asshole.

Do you think that quick-rich people act like millionaires? Nope, you can say back anonymously on forums better than anywhere and nothing can say anything about it, so why not act like an asshole for another asshole if you have all rights to do it without any media shit in real life about it? Of course I use my chance to do it, because I can. Of course I want to say back if you act like a kid even if it would make me sound like a kid myself and that's why I changed my username to 'Bitch with Bills in Bits'. Now I think I am on the same level with you, so you get me better.

I understand your point, though. I don't have an evidence good enough, so you can request for better one, but I don't understand why you hate someone on Christmas without good proof enough yourself. I said that I can proof it on someday, so please, wait for it. If you don't like me or you think I lie, just shut up. Why should you bother? I bother your behavior against me. It's not the reputation, but just nothing, but personal and the day. You got me?

Huge fucking paragraphs to hide his lie just post proof and voila the people acting like assholes are gone
