Thread: Selling Netwire License 170 days left of use --- C++ RAT, infects MAC/Linux/windows/

HackforumsGOD - November 23, 2016, 2:48 pm

Selling my net wire license that I just bought 10 days ago. The website is here

www.worldwiredlabs.com (remove commas and replace with periods)

I purchased the 50$ package and love the software but unfortunately I am low on funds and have a new project underway, so I am going to try and sell it. This RAT has amazing features like reverse socks proxy, fast screenlogger, keylogger (online/offline logger) and many more.

Stub is C++ so the binary is native meaning it will run on any windows versions without having to have anything installed on the host computer such as .net framework. This also can produce a .jar stub that can be installed on Mac and Linux operating systems.

I am looking to get 35$ for this but am willing to take offers. Let me know if anyone is interested PM me or post below.
