Hey everyone names flasks. Extremely new to HF, going to be mostly here to buy some things.

Any tips on buying off here, what to avoid whats ok? Also is rep the same as on any fourms or is it a special way to get it.

welcome to HF, enjoy your stay.

Rep is earned by helping others, and not posting LQ(low quality) posts. Also tips to buy off of here, is to look at their rep, and make sure they have at least over 50+ rep. that's what I do anyways.

Is your real name Flask? That would be a cool first name but welcome to the forum brutha

I have learned this the hard way. Making friends online is not the way to go. It will only cripple your social skills, try to meet new people and have a good conversation everyday.
However- the marketplace is a good place to start in this case.

Welcome to hackforums. Always check user's trust scan before dealing in marketplace for scam reports against them.
