Lauren Southern - November 29, 2016, 6:43 pm

"Non ducor, duco"

Nightmare "The Society" Sector

The Society is a sector of Nightmare dedicated to business and marketing. The Society works as a group to create projects, work on projects, and discuss topics such as: investment, marketing, crypto-currencies, product development, and many others. The Society strives to make HackForums and Nightmare a better place through tutorials, business advice, giveaways, and mentoring.

Spuffy - November 29, 2016, 6:48 pm

The society is a good group for businessmen and marketers, and people determined to make a name, and money at the same time. I've learned many methods from my fellow partners, and made a decent chunk of cash from it. ?

Who Soup - November 29, 2016, 6:48 pm

I love seeing business sectors; hopefully we will see some positive changes here.

Looks great ?

Age: 19

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?: I have a strong work ethic. In combination with motivation and hard work, i've been able to accomplish a lot when it comes to business.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which: Product Seller / Programmer. Not only am I a sneaker reseller (which rakes in a lot of money by the way), but I also run my own shop and sell products directly supplied by manufacturers from China. Over the years i've been able to develop many contacts at certain factories. As for the programming portion, I am mainly a web developer who will pursue Computer Science next year in college.

Do you use Skype?: Yes, but I do not want to post it publicly.

Products you've sold on HF (If applicable): I avoid selling products on HF, that may change in the future.

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?:

While, I may not possess all the inherent qualities of what a "good candidate" may suggest for this sector, I have a few unique attributes that make me stand out from the rest. For one, I am very persistent in what I do; there is no such thing as failure when it comes to my tasks. Morality also serves as an important trait, which may go against your sector as a whole, and I understand. I always strive to uphold professionalism and this sense of morality, where I may put one foot into the greyhat area, but never both - as it's often necessary to get a leg up. Lastly, I'm a very active and dedicated member to hack forums, who is eager to learn and work willingly with other members of the community.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which:Product Sellers and Vendors:

I've created my own website (www.leagueofcheap.com, www.thetroveshop.com, etc.) which have had some nice revenue when they were operating. I mostly work in the virtual goods section as I find it most profitable and morally acceptable - unlike certain black/greyhat activities.

Crypto-Currency Specialists:

Quite frankly, I don't know much about Crypto-Currencies, but I can't stress how much I'd love to learn about them!

Leadership Traits:

Although this may sound cocky, I feel myself as a natural born leader. Through various leadership roles, both online and in real life, I've learned that listening is just as powerful as speaking. Any great leader must listen to those under him to make rational decisions and resist one's myopic views. With that, I am excited to apply to your sector and possibly see what you guys have to offer!

Do you use Skype?:

Yes, will give privately.

Products you've sold on HF (If applicable):

I've been more so a buyer here on Hack Forums, but I've sold virtual goods mostly on and off of Hack Forums in the thousands.AGC SHOP

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?: I'm a businessman, I run multiple companies, and enjoy discussing business with people. From business ideas down to the nitty gritty "Which CRM system should I use for this?" questions :) I'm mainly focused on marketing and most of my business is generated through PPC (Adwords primarily) - and are all highly targeted clients.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which: I'm a leader and a marketing director. I also trade and teach people how to trade the Forex market.

Do you use Skype?: It's open the majority of the time, I don't always use it!

Products you've sold on HF (If applicable): <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5321789> that is the only real service I've provided on these forums (I don't usually conduct too much business through HF) - that service is currently being restructured as I have set up a limited company providing the services, including education and managed funds!

RamenField - November 30, 2016, 9:56 am

Age

I'm 20 years old.

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?

I've been buying and selling pretty much for 5-6 years here. I've learned a whole bunch. May it be from my mistakes, but also my accomplishments. And that's what I think I've done here. I've accomplished things. I've made many respectable contacts, as well as providing people with as much knowledge as limits my mind.

I am a motivated person. I run the long run. However I don't really like talking about what I can do and how good I can do it. It makes me sound very pompous. However I will prove to you what I'm worth. On the social side I don't feel that I lack much. Honestly who can be a good salesman if their social skills are weak. (Some may still succeed but you know what I mean)

As mentioned before, I've been a member here for a very long time. I've seen many come and go. And I feel that I know what sells and what doesn't. And I'd love to share future opportunities with this group. As well as getting to know everyone.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which

I am a product seller. I sell what is demanded within the cracking branch, and I know a thing or two about marketing.

Do you use Skype?

Yes.

Products you've sold on HF

I've sold a few different things over the years. But mostly accounts. At the moment I have my shop up and running. Selling all sorts of accounts.

Age: 18 years old

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?:

I have skills in multiple aspects within business: marketing, finance and salesmanship. I am a second year college student, with an aspiration to progress onto a postgraduate course at university. There I will continue my studies within business and hopefully graduate with a business degree. Furthermore, I am a motivated individual with a drive for success. I enjoy working in a team to contribute (and expand) on suggestions to ensure the decisions made are pre-eminent.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which: Marketing

Do you use Skype?: Yes

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?:

I am very business minded and am striving to own a successful business before I turn 18. Since I've been very little I've always been looking for ways to make money. I have a very strong work ethic. When I put my mind to something I will accomplish it. I have a few ideas I hope to put together very soon, and with the help of this group, maybe I can connect with people that can turn those ideas into final products.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which:

I have recently gotten into coding to help make bots to buy limited sneakers. All I know so far is python. I am learning other languages though, and want to become a decently skilled coder in a variety of languages before the end of the year. I have also been buying and reselling shoes for the past 5 years, and have made over $20,000 total with very little effort. I've gotten into it a lot more recently, and made $1,000 this past weekend alone from it. Being in this type of marketplace at such a young age and for such a long time, I can translate those skills into other areas, such as stocks, very easily. I just need to put the effort into it.

Do you use Skype?:

Yes I do.

Products you've sold on HF (If applicable):

I had a graphics service back in the day, made a couple sales but never anything serious. Most of my money is made off site. I buy a lot on site though, but usually petty things such as amazon gift cards or BTC. That is about it.

Thank you for your consideration and I greatly hope you can select me to become a part of your great sector.

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?: I believe that the only way to feel true success is to share it with others, also being surrounded by people who have similar goals is crucial when it comes to self-building and growth. I am an aspiring marketer possessing various traits in various areas related to IT. I call myself an all rounder with the main purpose of gaining experience which can then be applied later on in my main field which is marketing. Aside from IM I also love reading and studying the field of psychology, human behavior, communication and self growth. I haven't been active much on HF (post-wise) mainly because I do all of my deals over PM or Skype, however when I actually post I strive to help people by either providing guides or pointing out the mistakes they make. The Society is something I am actively looking for, mostly because I'm tired of all kinds of people just looking for a quick buck and having everything served on a silver platter. I'm looking for people with goals such as learning, gaining experience and becoming better at what they do daily by thinking outside of the box and not being scared of knowledge, especially in new or to them unknown areas.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which: I'd say out of the listed, I best fit as a marketer.

I am a good candidate due to the fact that I am a friendly person with a fairly large amount of experience in many subjects. I have knowledge in marketing, business management, graphics, basic coding, social media, and video editing. I have sold many products and services on hackforums.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which:

I am currently in college for business management and marketing.

Do you use Skype?:

If needed

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?:

I'm really passionate at marketing and coding, and I have the vision to see it through. I own an LLC, I coded an web app backend and frontend on iOS and droid. Own a drop shipping site that clears quite a bit all organic traffic. Coded quite a bit of tools, mainly in php but it varies, I'm familiar with tons of languages and fluent in a few. I own a lot of large social media assets and automate quite a bit more over insta/twitter/tumblr/facebook. I'm always looking to step up my game, I'll probably clear ~30k this year from marketing alone. I've always got projects to do and I'm always looking to team up with people. I'm never short on ideas just always short on time. I've got tons of knowledge to exchange with people and I'm short on knowledge on tons of places as well. I'd love to partner up and help people and whatnot.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which:

Marketing, Coding, Leadership.

Do you use Skype?:

Yes

Products you've sold on HF (If applicable):

I don't sell on HF, but I sell a decent amount off site.

Just wanna say I really like your Christmas giveaway as well, I'd love to be in a group like that and contribute as well, looks absolutely great.

What makes you a good candidate for The Society?:

I can offer constant activity as well as bring a positive attitude to the group. I'm slightly knowledgeable on both marketing and business.

I do deals on HF on a weekly basis and have had never had any complaints when I'm exchanging currencies.

Do you have any of the traits we provided? If so, which:

Crypto-currency specialists

Do you use Skype?:

I have skype but don't access it very often. I use Discord over skype as it offers much better protection, quality and it's overall easy to use.

Products you've sold on HF (If applicable):

I've not yet sold any products on HackForums but I often exchange my PayPal to other's BTC.
