Thread: Bought a dominos account for a friend of mine, and this happened

Sywren - November 29, 2016, 3:07 pm

So, the past week or 2, I would go to my friends house with a few other friends and we would order pizza. Usually I buy dominos accounts that are good for 2 pies off people on other forums. So I did this for ~2 weeks, and we got our pizzas with no complications. Fast forward to today, friend messaged me asking for pizza. Being the great friend that I am I bought him an account and ordered it for him. I set the phone number to his number. 10 minutes later, a grown fucking man is yelling at us through the phone because we hacked his dominos and stole his 2 free pizzas. He even threatened to call the cops and shit. My friend fucking panicked and couldnt fucking type whenever I messaged him

Should have told the guy how nice the pizzas were and thanked him for his hospitality.

If someone stole 2 pizzas off me, I wouldn't be too happy either to say the least :)
