Thread: Friend's IP is half banned

Windows 98 - November 30, 2016, 4:39 pm

The Juan and Only - <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2701151> is trying to get on HackForums, but it shows this error when he goes to HackForums.net: <http://prnt.sc/dduugz>

But, if he goes to a direct link (to like a thread and such I guess), it works fine.

Any ideas?

It'll go away after ~15 minutes. It happened to me last night.

Same thing just happened to me, although I just switched to 4G for now.

Omniscient created a thread about this. Hackforums is now signed up to cloudflare and it's in beta. If you try to click the lounge like twenty times in under a minute the firewall is triggered and you have a temporary wait for around fifteen minutes.

Yeah this happened to me too, it'll go away after like 5-10 min don't worry

Armada - November 30, 2016, 5:07 pm

Hit this same damn thing today.

Give it 30 mins and try again.
Dont load pages so quickly next time.

Heart - November 30, 2016, 5:08 pm

Happens to me when I open many threads to read at a time.

Soulmate~?? - November 30, 2016, 8:33 pm

This kept happening to me last night because my connection kept disconnecting and trying to reconnect back while it was spamming the site to try to load. Tell him to get on his phone or a tablet and he should be able to use HF on a different network.

Same thing is happening to me right now when I click on the home tab.

'Ben - December 1, 2016, 9:28 am

It's doing it to me as we speak. Quite annoying

ZCash - December 1, 2016, 9:30 am

I got this problem aswell. Really annoying.

'Ben - December 1, 2016, 12:57 pm

Did anyone find out why it was doing it?

It's rate-limiting based on excessive page loads.
