Hexicidal Wrote:Going through the section and the individual choice of users, I think what you have going is incredible and that you should be proud. The direction you took is phenomenal and the only qualms that I personally have with it is through my own experiences of a continuous decline in activity. Over time involvement withers. I'd recommend a constant hunt/application based search for new members alongside fostering and developing older members. The content is solely developed by the community, and the community is what you create.

The culture is lovely, and the leader is phenomenal.

Our first round of recruitment was very successful. I have brought in members who have provided amazing content and discussion material to the group. I am opening recruitment again to get some more like minded thinkers in the group.

Conspiracies, War, Society, Religion, Suppressed Technology, CIA Experiments, Politics. Etc

We are a group that refrains from using biased opinion, rather than proving a factual counter-argument, and comments spitting other members for their own discussions. I do this to provide a spot where we can discuss controversial topics without negativity and provide a discussion meant only for the topic at hand.

Use the following format while posting your application. Do not apply via UserCP, message myself or other leaders of the group. You will be denied. Also, do not edit your application. Any application that isn't the original will not even be in consideration. Let's see how well people follow the rules.

Ethnicity: Caucasian

Political Party: Republican and A small bit of liberal

Sexual Orientation: Straight (Male)

How active are you?: I am on HF everyday pretty much no matter what.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: None of the other groups here at all appeal to me. Your group seems the most interesting with some of the most interesting views. I would love to be a part of that! I like to discuss political views with others and just other things overall. Even though I cannot vote yet, I still want to be able to have a conversation about my political views with mature people.

How active are you?: Very Active, I am on HF daily posting and just lurking.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: I want to join the Occult as it's one of the most High Quality sector of Illumanti. Besides that Bane knows how interested I am about the Occult as he have spelt countless amount of Private Messages going back and fourth about me asking various questions. The last time he had recruitment I almost made it but he hates me as I like Jack Daniels :(. Besides that I am huge fan of conspiracy theories, war and history in general.

How active are you?: I've been hanging around on the forums, lurking for a while and just recently got active ~2 weeks ago. The forums is amazing for expressing thoughts, although usually I use it for marketing.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: Ever since I first read about conspiracies it has been satisfying to me, I always want to know more and the way such people as (Illuminati) says to rule the world now-a-days I'd say is wricked. Would be interesting to share my thoughts and opinions in conspiracies/society and give others a picture of how I think we really are controlled.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: For a while I've been seeing things going on in the world that always appear to have someone else pulling the strings. As well as other beliefs and theories I've looked into I feel that rather than always looking at things from my own perspective, that it would be beneficial to see things from other people's perceptions even if it contradicts something I currently believe. I find this could be extremely beneficial as I could share my findings and beliefs, as well as hear others and what they have found out and believe in. This seems especially great in a controlled environment such as this one, as rather than just showing a small amount of what I believe on the forum, knowing that showing more can possibly get me persecution and flaming rather than someone else's actual opinion, I could get useful and accurate information instead. In the end I want to grow, and if I can help others grow in whatever way I can, then I will feel that I have done something beneficial for everyone involved.

I love to debate politics and religion and often do so in the SRPP section (Though I am respectful to others' religion). Conspiracies and CIA Experiments (Or things of that nature) have always been a massive intrigue for me, though I don't subscribe to ones without clear evidence.

I'm proficient at explaining my points during debates and always enter arguments with a willingness to accept others' points of view as correct and would hope other members in the sector do the same. The Occult sector seems to be the sub forum that I would 100% be most active in as it's almost entirely tailored to my interests.

I also appreciate religious debates, but also learning about different ones - I am not religious, but I do not deny the existence of a higher power and the idea behind religion is interesting. The other category that interests me is War because a lot of these topics are controversial because a lot of countries forge a purpose for War to make some sort of gain for themselves whether its power, money, or other things of the sort, and I think reading and commenting my own opinions would be thought provoking. Finally, I would be willing to dive into other categories as well, a lot of things catch my interest.

Religion/Belief: I'm a skeptic because I've taken many philosophy courses in college. Religion has always changed throughout time. I have studied it historically. First they believed in polytheism, and attached human characteristics to the God(s) known as anthropomorphism. Society realized this made no sense, that the Gods didn't want us to suffer and that they loved us. Then many years later they have believed in one God, known as monotheism. It's all culturally based in my opinion. If we were in the time era of the Greeks, centuries ago, we would believed in many Gods. I do believe in a creator though and the yin-yang with the balance of life. Life's too complex for all of this shit just to happen

Nasal - December 10, 2016, 6:21 am

Age: 16

Religion/Belief: Muslim, although I'm not a blind Muslim who's against gay marriage or any of the stereotypical cliché's you might have about Muslims.

Ethnicity: Turkish, of the Asian side that is.

Political Party: Don't have any, but Democrat if I were obligated to choose. The power of a nation cannot be matched by any army.

Sexual Orientation: Hetero

How active are you?: Pretty active, you'd know if you were in The Order.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: I love debating more than anything else, and I'd hope to learn a thing or two extra.

y-y-youtoo - December 10, 2016, 6:27 am

Age:

15, turning 16 in 2 months.

Religion/Belief:

My household is Christian-Orthodox, however I am agnostic.

Ethnicity:

White [European]

Political Party:

I cannot vote yet, however I'm leaning towards the center-wing instead of the left-/right-wing.

Sexual Orientation:

I am straight.

How active are you?:

I'm online everyday, this differs from 2 to 6+ hours. Sometimes I only browse and read posts, but usually I actively try to participate, both inside HF and HF-related platforms (like discord servers with HF users).

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?:

I really enjoy discussing things with other users, concerning Politics, Philosophy, Religion and whatsoever. I am convinced I can add a fresh, new perspective to the topic of discussion. I'd respect every other member and don't judge them by their opinion on something, especially not on the topics listed, because there is not definite answer. That makes it appealing for me to join this sub-forum.

Mom - December 10, 2016, 8:46 am

Age: 15 years of age.

Religion/Belief: Atheist

Ethnicity: White

Political Party: Democrat (yes I'm young, but that's my political stance)

Sexual Orientation: Straight

How active are you?: My activity on this forum varies, most days I might be bombarded with school work and I won't be on(not very much nowadays) the forums. Most days, I'm online the forums 24/7, so activity in your sub-forum won't be a huge issue with me.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: Why do I want to join your sub-forum? I would love to join your sub-forum just for the sole purpose of learning. I know little about politics, I don't know a lot about Conspiracies but would love to learn more in this sub-forum. I also know a shit ton about religion, I've been studying religions for a few weeks now, and it's pretty interesting imo. I'd love to learn more about religion in this sub-forum though, cause I'm not sure if my sources are good enough for the religion purpose. I also know a little bit about war, since I studied this about a year or two ago, the civil war to be exact. Your sub-forum interests me a shit ton, because I love to talk to other users about these topics that your sub-forum offers.

Hey I would love to be considered

Age: 29

Religion/Belief: Christian - I am open minded but not a great believer but would love to be proven wrong.

Ethnicity: White Russian/British

Political Party: Labour U.K. - Democrat USA

Sexual Orientation: Straight

How active are you?: Very active

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: I haven't been part of this forum for a long time however I am very interested being part of a mature group with good knowledge and experience. I have been in groups on other forums and have been a leader of a group in the past so would love the opportunity to join and share my knowledge, experience and views.

I am here to stay so would appreciate the chance to be in this group

Thank you.

Matisa

Age: Older than 16 (Don't want to list due to obvious reasons)

Religion/Belief: I believe in science more than God, but still sorta believe in him.

Ethnicity: White

Political Party: Republican

Sexual Orientation: Straight

How active are you?: I am on every day. I browse the forum and answer questions/help people when I am searching for things to do.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: I need a group of people that can relate to me. Most of my friends in real life have no clue what HackForums even is, so when I am on I want to be surrounded by people that have a fun time on HF and just in general. I get along with most people as long as they are not completely retarded and that's about it.

Religion/Belief: Christian (kinda)

Ethnicity: Caucasian

Political Party: LPoC (Trudeau)

Sexual Orientation: Straight

How active are you?: I try to be as active as I can. I've been quite busy lately some big changes coming but I can assure after christmas or in the next months of the new year I'll be as active as I can when I can

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: Learning about world events and stuff other users are interested in is appealing to me. I'd like to get to know more people and learn what others think about... Plus posting in the lounge from dawn to dusk gets boring after a year.. Also to join a fairly large group would be nice. I have a couple mates in Illuminati that are pretty good kids.

Age: Under 18

Religion/Belief: Atheist

Ethnicity: White

Political Party: Neutral

Sexual Orientation: Straight

How active are you?: I consider myself pretty active on HackForums, I try to spend as much time as I can online browsing the new post feed. I like to bud into conversations and express my opinion.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: Well, I would like to be accepted to access the sub-forum because I like the recent conspiracy posts that other members have been making. I would like to join in on more conversation regarding conspiracy topics, and I think this would be a great place for me. One of my favorite conspiracies is one that revolves around the John F Kennedy assassination and it being linked to the federal reserve. This is my favorite conspiracy because soon before he was executed, president Kennedy executed an executive order (Executive Order 11110) to halt sales of silver by the Treasury Department. And since I believe that the federal reserve has enslaved nations across the world, this executive order was not in favor of them. But anyways, I am looking forward to meeting new people in the group as well, thank you for taking the time to read my application and I hope to see you soon ?

-I actually have an interesting reason for joining. Since this whole group is related to conspiracies, I think it would be neat to join. Recently, I have been researching a lot about how the free masons and such are connected with 'predicted events' and how sports are rigged. The whole numerology component alone is really intriguing to me. I would like to learn more about these such topics and since this group is generally related to such things, why not join!

How active are you?: Pretty active, I usually only post when I find something interesting which is why I have a low post count in comparison to my join date

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?: I want to join the sub-forum because I want to be apart of something, I feel the group has a lot of information to offer which wouldn't be released publicly. I have also been trying to discover my religion and I feel like there would be debates on the subject in the sub-forum which I could participate in and get a good understanding of the different religions in the sub-forum. I also like what you said in the thread

"We are a group that refrains from using biased opinion, rather than proving a factual counter-argument, and comments spitting other members for their own discussions. I do this to provide a spot where we can discuss controversial topics without negativity and provide a discussion meant only for the topic at hand."

This is why I want to be part of the group, a place to discuss issues and not discussing it without bias and negative comments to opinions within the given threads

Ethnicity: White

Political Party: I declare myself a democrat however I am more of an independent who does fair research on all candidates to determine who I would vote for.

Sexual Orientation: Heterosexual

How active are you?: Inside subforums I am extremely active. Outside of subforums not so much because I feel like I'm an outsider. When I'm inside the subforum the group feels like family to me. (Just check the amount of posts I have in group sf's lol)

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?:

Last night while I was baked out of my mind I started to think deep. I started to think about the meaning of life. I mean, we're all going to die. Every single one of us are going to die. There is no avoiding it. So I thought to myself what death is like. It's a scary thought. What if reincarnation was real but we were born into a different universe in a different dimension or something. To us everything would seem normal because we wouldn't remember our past life, but if we did, everything would in the future would be inconceivable to us now.

I spoke with my friend on this matter (he wasn't high) and he told me one very true thing. There's no point in fearing the inevitable. It has to happen. It will happen. While we can't pretend like it won't happen, we can accept that it will happen. Don't take things for granted, because this is the only life we have. Learn to appreciate everything because we won't be around forever.

The reason I want to join this subforum is so I can share my stories and gain valuable input, while also giving constructive input of my own on others thoughts and ideas.

Thanks for reading my application.

Why do you want to join my sub-forum?:

I just now found this thread and honestly, this is what I've been looking for. I really find it interesting, not just to debate and discuss URL but also in general. I love to speak about interesting subjects and hearing other people's view and thoughts along with discussions and debates. Philosophy and religion are my favorite classes in school, because there is so much to talk about and to think about. Life is a mysterious thing and the purpose of it is questionable and interesting.

Thanks for reading and kind regards.
