Still studying minimal skintone style :)

Hope you like it !

10/10 - These are pretty damn awesome.

Raguel - December 1, 2016, 12:51 pm

Love how you're doing the shadows with the stripped pattern, and how it's integrated seamlessly into the design. I would be cautious of your use of blue in the second picture, as it clashes with the background and the colours she's wearing- maybe a complementing muted-red would be more appropriate? I understand if you're going for a stark contrast, but it really just makes the piece look unflattering. Lastly, your use of gradients in combination with the minimalist values gives it an awesome sense of style! Great work :)

I always love your vectorxvexel art, it's always clean and nice colors.

Scarface™ - December 1, 2016, 4:35 pm

Looks really nice bro! I like it.

Audi RS3 - December 1, 2016, 4:36 pm

Top one of my fav. These are awesome man.

Drug Problems - December 1, 2016, 4:36 pm

I really like both of them. If I had to choose a favorite it would be the first one. Very good job on both of these, keep up the great work!

Indicium - December 1, 2016, 7:03 pm

I like them both, and the style. Keep it up!

Do You Want To Bet - December 1, 2016, 7:04 pm

i like it preeeety neat man

oscast - December 1, 2016, 7:04 pm

The second one looks like the girl from the ring in all honesty

SoyNuevo - December 1, 2016, 7:06 pm

Those look phenomenal in my opinion, I'm really digging the style. Keep up the good work, seriously :D

Looks really nice and i love the concept. Might cut the red a bit on the first one though cause on her arm it looks a bit unnatural. Other then that the gradients look really sweet, well used. For the second one the parts on her nose and chin bother me, i would personally just stick with the lighting effect and make the outline more realistic and ditch the parts on her face. Raquel mentioned a muted red, but personally i think this looks great, and indeed a really nice contrast. Further then that not much to point out man, great work.

Colon.y - December 2, 2016, 9:47 am both look very nice but my favourite one is the 1st one :)

arkoydas - December 2, 2016, 12:47 pm
