What I Can Do: (note: everything is headless which means requires no open browsers and it's significantly faster)Data Mining (usernames, URLs, numbers, etc)

Account Creation

Twitter Auto-Retweeter/Liker/DM

Auto Posters (example: Playerauctions)

Almost anything that uses an API

Flask Websites

Database Management

EDIT: Looking to start all of my contact via PM and Discord only. I have a skype but I'm trying to phase it out.

Send me a PM with what you need an if you have an approximate budget, that as well. I can get a lot of things done in a quick manner. I can provide example projects if needed.

If the script needs to be continuously run, I can host it on my server.

(?°?°)?(???? - December 10, 2016, 8:41 am

Hit me up if you need anything, still providing this.

Grand Pootis - December 10, 2016, 8:46 am

Let me know if you can do a slack slash command integration.

I would like to be able to make steam accounts and do a few other things but most are just calls to steam web API (but not account creation and login)

I would want to host it on AWS Lambda

I should add that the script with the slack hook is actually on the AWS website so it's already done. I'm trying to make an easy accessible steambot

I've never done anything with that before - can you send me some more information via PM please?

Any released code via github to check out your work?

Uh, I don't think I have anything recent on github. I don't publicly post client's work as that would defeat the purpose of it. If you check out my signature, that's something I've created if that helps?
PM me if you need more information.

Potentially but I'm pretty sure Google's protection on it is extremely good.

well thats one of the things i would be ready to pay for but yeah it might be really hard. I was thinking of looking up the traffic coming out of android phone coz it doesn't ask for captcha and you don't necessarily need to provide phone number verification when registering new account in gmail client or when registering new device but i think there are some limits. Just a thought of how one can go about it. Was gonna try myself but I really don't have time lately.

This guy is an absolute legend! He created me a Python script for something which usually takes me HOURS to do. Fucking 10/10 service with amazing prices. He should be charging way more.

KingAlts - December 13, 2016, 12:03 am

Do you also code custom bustabit scripts, ik your are selling one thats y i was interested in a custom one

Huge vouch for this guy, he really knows his stuff and made me a very complicated bot using captcha's and proxies, he included a free proxy checker specific to the website i was using it for, also has helped me for days now with support and still sending my updates!

Easily the best seller on this site.

Parsing spreadsheets to be put in to a different format.

Automatically retweet/favorite tweets on Twitter.

Rig an online voting competition.

Repeatedly solve math problems.

Automatically create accounts to websites.

If you have any more questions, let me know!

wally543 - February 22, 2017, 6:13 pm

Add-on to my previous vouch, I highly recommend this user, he goes above and beyond to help his customers, I asked for some extra features on my previous project and he added them on within 10 minutes free of charge. This guy really knows what he is doing!
