I feel there's things only upgraded members may see for example like [spoiler] except on upgraded members may see. This could be used for give aways and other things

What's wrong with just PM'ing the person who's doing the giveaway? Why did you make this thread just because you didn't win the amazon giveaway lol

InspectorGadget - December 3, 2016, 4:36 pm

Or using the upgraded member section...

Let people leech. No rules against it. This would not really attract new users as well..

So you are gonna report everyone who joins a giveaway or free service and does not contribute to the forum or wtf are you saying?

I know the rules.

You should reread the Help Docs. You seem to be a know it all who has it all wrong. We recommend you take the time to read the HF Help Documents section. The answer to your questions should be contained in there.

Quote:Leeched Post

Leeching is when information is taken from one place and posted somewhere else without giving any credit. Threads or posts where the user does not credit the material copied from either the site itself or elsewhere on the Internet will have their thread(s) removed and their account possibly closed.

Absolutely not.

A new user's experience would be heavily restricted and sure, maybe a few people will upgrade to gain access to certain types of content; though by that point you've already alienated the majority, this is not a health way to cultivate a community.

Codefuser - December 4, 2016, 8:22 am

Your idea will basically isolating and limiting new users, and discourage them from being HQ and gain as well as contribute to the forums.

lipuHF - December 4, 2016, 8:32 am

I miss the times this section was closed and making suggestions was forbidden.

Omniscient - December 4, 2016, 2:02 pm

I will not add this feature to HF.
