I don't think that there's an order in which the prizes will be given out.

This contest is more of an event. There will be logos hidden somewhere in a post and you'll need to find the post. If you manage that, then you win a prize.

Well the prize is decided based on who finds the logo. We were going to giveaway an Ub3r upgrade but since the person who found it already had Ub3r, we decided to give them an 3P1C upgrade. The prizes are random for the most part.

And the signature should be ready soon :)

That would be too easy unfortunately. Knowing who posted it would lead you to it almost immediately if you know how to look. I just wanna know which specific forum it's in. That would make it infinitely easier to find.
