Thread: [\[Suggestion\] Implement Lighshot Screenshots to \[img\] tags](#)

Drizzy?? - December 5, 2016, 3:44 pm

Lightshot/Prntscrn now uploads with this direct image link format:

<http://image.prntscr.com/image/xxxxxx.png>

However, this format doesn't work with the [img] tags. Would it be possible to implement this?
Thanks.

It doesn't work because Lightshot isn't https. All links need to be https now.

Can confirm this. Lightshot does not support https.

It would be great if an exception was made for this, a lot of my old posts are broken because of this and i am not the only one but i understand if this was not accepted.

ShareX Master Race. Just use Imgur, it supports HTTPS. What's wrong with it?

OP wants to be able to screenshot and upload, all-in-one.

Lightshot too...

But then he wants to be able to post it directly here on HF. He can't and won't be able to because it does not support https.

ShareX allows you to upload to imgur, which supports https, which works on HF.

Yeah, use sharex instead. enjoy

I do it all the time with ShareX.

Ah I see. Had no idea they were using Imgur, quite smart move from them.

My bad.

Not just that, but ShareX has LOTS of ther options... You can easily annotate, add blur, censor, add pointers, highlights, etc. You can choose if you want the image uploaded, saved to your system or anything else. Just give it a try, it has a ton of useful features you didn't know you needed.

No exception will be made to break our HTTPS. That's an unrealistic request. I put in a lot of work to accomplish 100% HTTPS. I won't undo that for lazy people who refuse to use services which are HTTPS compatible.
