At first when I got a matching IP at home I thought my bro joined HF.
Now im on 4G and I still have a matching IP.

Is that normal?

Dont call me a multi ?

That's weird, ask your brother if he did. But you shouldn't worry.

To make this clear, Im wondering If this ever happened to someone or if it just checkd login IP.
Or is someone with the same 4G IP on HF?

Yeah, im just hesitating because he will ask who I am there, etc.
Id rather check via my phone if he is connecting to Hf

I wouldn't doubt a Katarina main to be a multi.

multiiii, jk xD
maybe someone cracked your wifi connection and has HF account, just a thought.
check the devices that have connected on your internet.

And also the 4G? ARE YOU SURE ABOUT THAT?

No idea how 4g works is that mobile data? Possible that somebody else has an account using that cell tower? In the summer I was driving (in the passenger seat) down the highway while on HF and suddenly got blocked which tells me that area was blocked for some reason whether it went on Omni's list some how or a member lives/lived near there I don't know but it's possible it's just a simply mistake.

This thread should clear that up nonetheless, smart call. What I said might be completely irrelevant who knows.

Hmm the block mightve been related to some minor errors in the block list. Omni said that his list is only 99% accurate. Doesnt explain my issue though...
