Thread: [\[CLOSED\] Equilibrium Official Group Graphics Request - \$200](#)

Soulmate~?? - December 6, 2016, 2:07 pm

Soon I am going to be rebranding the group riptide into a new group called Equilibrium. We are looking for a userbar and SF icon however if you could make a banner or signature along with a divider that would be appreciated.

I don't really have anything specific in mind in terms of a logo but here are my favorite userbars from my favorite groups. (from top to bottom) You can use the new or old style, to me it's fine either way as long as you make a good userbar.

Here's some new ones that I like.

It's up to you if you use the classic style or new style and whether you put the name of the group in it or not. You can choose any theme you want, but you should also come up with a good light/dark userbar if you wish. Good luck to all.

Here is the meaning of Equilibrium, although it's not necessary to incorporate this into the userbar in any way.

(Dec 6, 2016 10:54 PM)fannas1 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The main meaning is balance between all things. For example. "rage and calm", "good and bad", "light and dark" or "Yin and Yang" if you like, but also referring to a state of mind. Many ways to express this one with a graphic illustration. Interested to see the submissions on this one.

I don't think so, I am asking for a service from someone to make a userbar. If it was a contest and someone there wasn't picked for their userbar I could get closed for running a fake contest. Also there would be other limitations like the end date.

I see what you mean now, I'd like a deviation from that for sure but if the best one has wings then so be it. So far my favourite userbar of all time has to be The Alliance, so simple and elegant and before a time when wings were the userbar trend.

Like others said the colors could use a little tinkering.

I'd say make the middle shield with the scale a brighter gold to make it stand out more.

The background could be a little more interesting and maybe just a hair thicker

The wings behind the shield could definitely use work.

Take the Complexity userbar as inspiration(However I think you may have already?)

Very nice entry good job

(Dec 8, 2016 11:43 PM)inShane Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#)

I like the concept. The Yin and Yang in the middle looks too low quality and sharp as the other dude said. Looks like you took a large image and shrunk it down.

The edges cut off too hard. Make it fade out more so there is no noticeable edge

There is something else I'm not feeling with this one but I'm not too sure what it is. Definitely a good entry though good work.

(Dec 9, 2016 12:03 AM)?ane Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#)

This suffers with the same problem as the other one. The edges are too noticable. I think it would look nicer if it faded out more.

Also I'm not a huge fan of the graphic in the middle. Your nicest entry so far though.

You have the right idea with the icon but I think everything on the sides is completely off. Once again you have a nice header but it doesn't really transition well into the userbar. There is way too much detail on the sides and it doesn't need to be perfectly square like it is now. It looks like a plaque in a mausoleum, try to find a completely different style while using the same icon if you would like to submit another entry.

You could try changing the color scheme to go with that though from more wooden and rusty to metal and refined if you know what I mean. I wouldn't exactly say it is his concept necessarily. To be honest, this is a common theme among most custom usergroups back when they started allowing it without the userbar. For anyone still trying this, I think try go with maybe a greek theme with the Libra scales or mix in "equal" or level thinking.

Could be anything from good/bad - of course ying/yang which we have seen, maybe something inside the scales or a seesaw being balanced by good and evil.

Endeless possibilites

So some ideas I have had to help you talented people out.

2 sides of the same coin - balance - being the same coin but having both good and bad.

2 wings - one being a white angelic wing and the other being demonized.

Libra scales - Astronomy/constellations, while being a particular month/time period - each side of the scale could hold weight to 2 sides of a story/argument/discussion.

An image hidden inside an image - Not via any hiding techniques but even an image that when flipped could be seen in another light.

Avatar the last airbender style - It's all about the balance of the different bending abilities - fire/water/air/earth - possibly brought together by light representing each color.

A peace symbol, representing harmony.

A human with a soul leaving them on one side and a shadow on the other - representing both sides.

Something relating to Ki or Chakra infinity symbol ? could also be a good image to represent it.

There's a Swastika in the middle, you're not allowed to show that on your profile on HF so Omniscient probably wouldn't accept it. Also it looks somewhat like Enigma's userbar but I still like it and could see myself using it. Try to take out the Swastika and replace it with the scale or yin yang or something else.

I was eating a bic mac doing this so im ready to hear some MC jokes ?

Soulmate asked if you could do this. "Black and white or silver and black or some gold one."

Vittorio - December 24, 2016, 2:05 am

Keep the graphics rolling in. Would like to see what everyone can come with! Just know if you end up being the man who gets chosen for the userbar you'll always remember you made thst userbar! So be sure to take time while making the UB!
