Thread: [Omniscient possible or approved Suggestions \[REFERENCE\]](#)

Truth - December 6, 2016, 8:21 pm

This thread is meant to list suggestions that Omni considered or already approved. Its not only meant to help keep this section clean, but, also to inspire members to see what may come or what is already coming :) I got this idea from seeing a post asking if Omni ever approved or considered a suggestion before and this is proof that he does. I hope this inspires you to come up with high quality suggestions for HF.

Omni possible Suggestions:

[*] Possible Suggestion: "Omni closes accounts with over 1 year inactivity and I think if it has 2FA on, it shouldnt be closed since its as secure as it gets."

Vitani thread is only for denied suggestions if I am not mistaken

This thread would be for approved suggestions or suggestions where omni might approve but needs more time to think about it. (check above for real world example of this)

Although I do get that you are trying to contribute to the community with this, why is there a need for a reference thread with already approved suggestions?

If Omniscient approves something he will likely implement it right away (unless it's something big) and people wouldn't suggest it again as it's already (being) implemented.

No but seriously, credit goes to xadamxk as well. Don't forget the guy, he's awesome!
He actually made the initial thread, he's been a big help!

Well, the main thing about this reference thread is it shows Omni's considered and approved suggestions. I believe members seeing suggestions that omni considered or even approved will inspire members to give quality suggestions. Also, as you mentioned, if it's a big suggestion then it will take some time to implement and it's best to list it here to let members know. Since approved and considered suggestions are rare, this thread won't be as active as the denied thread, however, I feel an omni's possible or approved suggestion list can have a positive roll in the Suggestions and Ideas subform. Imk ?

Basically you saw Vitani received a stick for a thread similar to this relating to type of denied suggestions, so making a thread with approved types would hopefully bring the same thing. Not a shot at you OP, just don't see the need for this.

I actually had this idea for a while, as I remember seeing someone wanting to know if omni ever approved/considered any suggestions before. But, Vitani thread certainly gave me the inspiration to actually do it. As far as you not seeing the need, well, I have my reasons listed above, maybe you can explain why not or debate with the reasons I gave above. As far as you mentioning vitani stick and hopefully bringing the same thing. That is very nice of you to say, It certainly would be an honor for me :)

Thank you ?

Hmm alright, I can get behind that. Though maybe dig into this section a bit and compile a list from approved suggestions and updating the OP with them.
