Arizonalce - December 7, 2016, 4:14 am

I have a nearly unlimited supply of $5 Starbucks gift cards, they can be used world wide (As far as I'm aware)

Do you think people would be interested in these?

What price do you think is reasonable for them?

May i ask how you obtained these giftcards?

Bennynguyen100 - December 7, 2016, 4:14 am

I would be interested in buying for the right price.

Through a private method, not carded, cracked accounts ect - All legit.

A little worrying on how you obtain an unlimited supply legitimately. Is there anyway you can prove they're legally obtained?

Could you show us a receipt of the payment option?

Doesn't come with a receipt, just a email containing the giftcard information.

Well I mean I guess its fine. Risky cause once someone has an issue, it looks like fraud

I'd be interested if they're legit

It might look like fraud, but its not.

$3.50 a good price?

You should apply all these gift cards into separate accounts and sell them on as accounts with high balance. It would be a lot faster for you.

Especially if you claim to have unlimited cards.
I still have to put some work in, $1 is ridiculous lol.

Probably 50% off, so $2.50.
