The theme is beautiful tbh

The domain is quite nice. I love .io domains. I don't believe you've forced the theme on users and made it default though, as I have to manually switch to the Laguna theme. GL with your forum, looks great.

I'm so used to seeing shitty attempts at forums on here from random people so I was actually surprised to see a good looking one. I can see you've put loads of effort and time into this project. I might actually sign up because it looks like it has tons of potential. Best of luck with your project buddy.
