Thread: Learning Graphics

Ubers - December 13, 2016, 12:03 am

Hello everyone!

I am actually planning to learn everything related to Graphics as my semester break will start from new year till mid year. LOL.

I wanna learn something,

C++ (Done)

Web Dev. (In prog.)

Graphic (Nothing)

So yeah, feel free to post any links that you think should be good enough for beginners.

Thanks!?

I highly suggest <http://www.w3schools.com/> for any developmental knowledge you may need.

As for graphics you should specify exactly which program you desire to learn under.

Photoshop: <https://phlearn.com/free-tutorials>

Indesign: <http://www.indesignskills.com/tutorials/>

Illustrator: <http://www.webdesignerhub.com/adobe-illustrator-tutorials-for-beginners-to-experts/>

You can also go to lynda.com but I believe you have to pay for those services

Photomanipulation is the word you're looking for.

Cheers.
