Maybe you can differentiate between legal streaming sites and non legal.

BahNahNah - December 14, 2016, 3:13 pm

Animelab is Madmans streaming service, so its in the same category as crunchyroll.

agreed , also putting [HQ thread] does the opposite it's like you want recognition that your thread is HQ which it's not btw
The reason you don't see others making threads like this as it's not aloud anymore i think

Lol the tags are a joke why is everyone pointing it out

I'm pretty sure this is allowed unless staff want to be VERY picky.

I'm pretty sure this is allowed unless staff want to be VERY picky. There is nothing to be picky about. It is not allowed, but the staff don't enforce the rule that strongly.

The rule is no 'linking' sites. I am not linking. If they are not enforcing the rule strongly doesn't that imply they aren't being picky about it???

If staff wants this gone I'll gladly junk it. This is beneficial to members here though.
