Thread: Upgrade payment question.

DocShifty - December 14, 2016, 6:55 am

If I do not have the BTC in my wallet. Yet I send a friend who does have it some cash can he then pay my upgrade fee or does he need to send it to me then I pay it?

Just send ur friend the address that the payment system gave you, it doesn't matter who sent it so long as Omni receives it.

Correct me If I am wrong, I'm pretty sure you're able to do this.

Check the Help Docs, I can't remember 100%.

Thanks Wakka

I guess I was just confused on how it would know if it came from me.

I think how it works is each time you want to make a new payment a temporary holding address is created for you, once the payment processor receives the payment it merges the btc it received into it's existing balance and takes their cut and forwards omni his cut.

Cool I literally watched it say paid on my screen as my friend paid it. Very cool

Thanks again Wakka.

Yes, he can pay for you. All he has to do is enter your profile in when he is upgrading you. Well, I am guessing you are upgraded now. That's great, enjoy!

We will if it worked in a few hours i guess.

oops it say paid 99% I hope I can just send more. I guess the whole transaction fee wasn't paid. I hope I am not out that money, but lesson learned if I do.
