I think it's a rather unknown tool to crack WPA/WPA2 passphrases.

Why don't you try it first of all with aircraft as Faith Connors suggested?

That most similar to dumper and uses aircrack suit (alongside others).

Unfortunately the speed you get using Dumper can't really be replicated for WPA2 simply because WEP which is what Dumper works again is much easier to crack.

Through I would honestly suggest look up at social engineering attack vectors.
