Thread: Ratted a "Microsoft" Technical Support Department

Glyco - December 15, 2016, 11:21 am

Often I have always wondered what the work environment was like inside a Microsoft Techsupport scam location we today I kinda of pretty much figured out.

Recently I got in contact with a techsupport call center I picked off from the numbers have reported to be scams.

I won't really go through on how I manage to infect him, but damn It took a lot of work. I posed a white american female and things pretty much went a toll from there. Emails where exchanged and so were pictures from their I found my vulnerability.

<https://gyazo.com/0b70e821a981f7e8cedde42806774a1c>

Anyways this is how the call center looks like when they're answering calls.

<https://gyazo.com/a5e486b52820cb79598ebce10bfa88a8>

They use a telecome system to answer calls called EyeBeam which is widly available online for free.

But what really caught my eye was how he pulled off the scam, how he would target people over the phone would call him he would then look up their numbers through this website

<https://thatsthem.com/>

Often times it would give them owner of the telelphones

- name
- address
- income

(pretty weird)

I was listening over on his mic one of the clients he was talking over the phone with. He tried to convince him his computer was infected and what not and how his serial was expired(when it wasn't) Infact the he never had a serial for Windows 8

<https://gyazo.com/fde8b213c57787e45684bf7e1086e7e7>

<http://vocaroo.com/i/s0p0vavHK3KM>

He then finalized it with a lot of promises to guarantee that the computer will be in working condition and from now on after the "technician fixes it"

<http://vocaroo.com/i/s0P4dJvZgZAw>

Last but not least after they thought pretty much sealed the deal they started to have a laugh. I didn't get the chance to record that part, but they were speaking Hindi if anyone can make something of it or even translate it that would be a blessing

<http://vocaroo.com/i/s1vQHilUDPtF>

Where do these guys located?

-well according to the IP search it came out to as country India

city Jodhpur

state Rajasthan

I did a little bit more search through his machine and found out his building location or in essence where the scam operation is done.

How much does he make? About 235$ a month or so well according to this

<http://gyazo.com/a82bbd5c9aa0d9aa60cfb7e37967b968> (probably even less)

How many people are in the call center?

-Well according to the database there is roughly around 50

<https://gyazo.com/53e531668d33b74cd6d92708a7a4be31>

I even have access to control their calls and monitor them

<https://gyazo.com/dd0ba6d1d6e4bba4afc0507694edc881>

Edit I decided to call him using PrankDialer it was really fun worth the listen

Well, i thought it was actually microsoft and it turns out it is!

Katarina Du Couteau - December 15, 2016, 11:26 am

LOL, the Indian Accent HAHAAHAHAHAH

Happy™ - December 15, 2016, 11:28 am

Lol nice work. That was a fun read.

Renestey - December 15, 2016, 11:29 am

Well this was a very interesting read, motivates me to try doing the same... They are so damn low payed though, considering the prices they sell the "services" for

@Jupiter - December 15, 2016, 11:31 am

Gwen Stacy , with a male Indian accent lol

Poor spidermam

Papa Cuda - December 15, 2016, 11:50 am

That was pretty interesting to read, thanks for the share. Inb4 swatted though.

Inked ?Feather - December 15, 2016, 11:55 am

That's amazing! I've already wondered these things, and it's pretty satisfying to find out at last.

Let me know if you can fuck Vishal up. I'm gunning for that office boy job

jobi - December 15, 2016, 12:03 pm

Theyre like the Wolfs of India street right now.

I said it ? ?

Mazzy Star - December 15, 2016, 12:08 pm

Haha nice work man! join the nsa, they need guys like you nah im kidding but seriously good job! this scum deserves to be doxed and exposed!

VirtualFrost - December 15, 2016, 12:27 pm

Wouldn't you also be able to connect to all other local computers in the building as well? I don't know jack shit about rats, just a thought lol

SIM-1980240 - December 15, 2016, 12:50 pm

Never heard of such a successful RAT story before. Thanks for sharing it with us OP, I found it quite interesting.

Saney - December 15, 2016, 1:07 pm

I once managed to infect some somalian guy that had been reported by some people on steam (I know right?..-) When I opened to check their facecam I got a huge fucking suprise. It was an old fucking somalian guy (so black I had troubles seeing his nose), he had his computer placed like you could watch the busy street behind him and all that shit. I just ended up saving his whole fucking computer into a binary of his files and shut down his computer because of the fact that he was grooming. Anyways..... Some people man

Bennynguyen100 - December 16, 2016, 12:59 am

wow. Holy crap.

Thats amazing to know what kind of stuff goes in the background..

R?????obert - December 16, 2016, 1:00 am

Lol I remember doing this too but apparently they reformatted their PC's once in a while because I lost my client ?

Mascherano - December 16, 2016, 1:32 am

To break this down a bit.

The center is operating in a sub-desert region in India

The translation for the vocaroo file(as much as I could make it)

As much as I could make out btw, these are college going students(probably in high school or some stuff as such working in this call center as a part time job(?))

--No, its a single. Near Universal, someone came to sold books to our College. You'll get it at a discounted rate(all of them) at 4,000 INR. There's 4 volumes of this book(college studies shit). That's a different book(college studies again). This is not how they say. 599? Plan is for 499(bhosadike - Indian slang) 299. How many times do I tell you its 499! You talk and convince better than he does--

To answer your question

"Office Boy" here is practically a servant job.

Getting tea, getting the files, mopping the floor up, transmitting information from employee to employee etc. etc.

Just misc. odd jobs.

Btw if OP could help me out a bit more and get me more information I can mess around with them since I'm Indian xD

(probably even prank call since I speak their language)

Avoyel - December 16, 2016, 1:41 am

I tried to do this with a friend a while ago but it didn't work. This is hilarious though, good job lol

#Skyline - December 16, 2016, 1:41 am

I really it love it when I see users do this.

Fuck scammers, rip them apart OP.

One of the tactics they use to get customers to buy their products is by getting a hold of their machines using AMY then they override the customers accounts and change the password on the account.

I am pretty happy she pretty much knew what was going on. 2 days ago they made a lady buy them 700$ in iTunes giftcards for the services. I am not sure if she ever did buy them though.
