Ninetales. - December 15, 2016, 11:36 pm

dude love can really be anything lol i mean my dick loves girls but once i nut i lose the feeling but maybe thats lust and not love

i guess love is like the thing in your mind that gets more attention and has more priority then anything else, regardless of it being human or a hobby or somethin and ill say "a cat" but i got 3 damn skimpy dogs so i aint postin no pics

Armady1 - December 15, 2016, 11:36 pm

Hm, love an extraordinary thing that we humans have to deal with. I would define it as basically someone of huge importance to you and someone who you would give up your life for.

And uhm, I used to play with 2 cats and feed them since they jumped into my backyard everyday.

Drugs are terrible for your body, that would be the opposite of love.

Don't know if it's still going on, but my definition of love would be living for someone else, and finding happiness in their happiness. When you genuinely feel happy when you see someone else happy, that's love.
