Thread: Shouldn't he be closed? Curious

Gulddreng - December 19, 2016, 9:46 am

What's up guys ? I'm just wondering here. According to the Help Docs, he should've been closed by now, am I right? Or maybe not?

I'm curious to why he didn't get closed. It is though 100% up to Omni & HF staff, I respect their decision and I'm not trying to enforce anything. ?

So he makes a scam report about you, And the first thing that comes in your mind is: Hey lets try to get this guy banned for using a paypal holder. Imao

Wakka - December 19, 2016, 9:49 am

Who's worse YOU the scammer or him for using you as a paypal holder? IMO you should be banned through the concept of morality. You fucking dog.

Reporter - December 19, 2016, 9:49 am

Wasen't you offering him service as a paypal holder?

Hapi - December 19, 2016, 9:50 am

This may be all well and good, but I wouldn't tell Omni/Staff how to do their job.

Windows 98 - December 19, 2016, 9:50 am

That would mean YOU should be closed. Says anyone holding that type of service will be.

OMNI's word is law here, OMNI gives a warning, then the member gets a warning.

I never did any PP holding to anyone. He accused me of doing so, and he admitted to doing it himself.

Was thinking of that as well. It's alright - I understand now!

Lrrr - December 19, 2016, 9:54 am

Why is op not closed for offering PP holding?

fapninja - December 19, 2016, 9:55 am

Doubt my opinion is wanted in this case, but I just gotta say: Who the fuck trusts an internet stranger with almost $6000? I mean, he almost deserves to lose the money as a life lesson.

Omni said he never admitted to doing it so he has no proof.

????s? - December 19, 2016, 9:57 am

I vote for both of you to have closed accounts. ;)

Check the red marks:

So far he received a warning, and I'm curious to why he didn't get closed instead. It is though 100% up to Omni, I respect his decisions. ?
welcome to hackforums

OP you did a bad thing trying to tell the Admin indirectly that he's not enforcing his own policy. Good luck.

Also if that guy isn't lying about using a PayPal Holder then you are the one who should be closed since you're also indirectly admitting to offering it. I mean he's reporting you for being his PayPal holder and if you aren't then he's not either.

Don't tell Omni what to do. He makes the decisions around here, don't question them.

I'm sorry. I'm aware of it now and promise it won't happen again.

Good job OP of falling for the bait.
