Thread: Gyft? Legit?

Vobe - December 19, 2016, 11:51 am

Did not know the best place to post this so I just assumed it'd be here.

I have $500 PayPal that I want transferred to Amazon and I have heard that Gyft is a legit site.

Anyone have any experience with them? Since I'm spending a large sum of money I don't wanna get fucked over.

Thanks! ?

Kaspah - December 19, 2016, 11:53 am

Gyft is 100% legitimate. I have used them for a few years now. Don't hesitate to use them.

From what I hear Gyft is very legit. I, myself have not experienced anything with them but I always see users posting about how good it is.

Anything I have to worry about when buying or is it all pretty standard?

Gyft is indeed legit. However, if you are using Paypal/CC and you're a new customer, you may be required to do a verification.

This is normal especially with a large purchase. You should expect it to be 24 hours or so. To answer your question, yes, Gyft is 100% legit. I love it, honestly.

A while. Keep checking your emails as they might ask for verification.
