Check the innuendo section for my, I guess you could say, 'innuendo reputability'.

I'd love to be a part of the sector and see what you have planned, this has been one of my favorite topics for a long time.

By the way, this is one of my innuendo thread's that was made a sticky by Omni.

Name: Call me Cred. You'll learn my name later on.

Age: 21

Have you ever been in a relationship?: I'm in a 4 year long relationship right now, and going strong. We have lived together for 2 years.

Have you ever posted in the innuendo sector of HF? If so, how many posts do you have in there?: Yes, 6. I'm not much a 'poster' on HF as of now since I'm working more and dealing with RL.

What interested you to apply for WallFlowers?: Its unique 'niche' relating to Relationship and Sexual advice. I feel I'm very 'sexually orientated', and would fit right in.

What have you got that you can offer WallFlowers?: My open-minded approach and mentality to Sex and its various avenues of approach/indulgence; To include building the personality/confidence to be a sexually outgoing person.

What would your IRL and internet friends describe your personality?: I think this question needs a grammar check (What to How), but anyways, they'd describe me as an open-minded 'switch of a character'. I am typically tolerant of opposing opinions IRL, unprejudiced, and unbiased. I am a 'switch of a character' in that I am completely different around particular people, amounts of people, in text and in talk, online and offline. However, I can choose to be more consistent if that is what aligns with WallFlowers.

Thanks for the read.
