I used to play a lot of 8 ball pool .Now it's fucked if they get the slightest inkling you have been cheating getting extra coins or using a line through Xmodgames say bye bye to your coins .

Miniclip are a shower of wankers i was using a line and lost over 120 million if i'm caught again account will be closed !

Even trying to exchange coins takes far to long now as you can only play 100k games (Fuck miniclip)

Good luck with sales tho OP

There's much better ways than 100k games to transfer coins. I guess some people do it with all in one and connecting at the same time during peak times or alternatively PC to PC whereby you click search at the same time.

Hello, I just want to let everybody know, that this guy scammed me.

I have purchased 100m pool coins for 12$. He told me that it would take 30 - 45 min max to transfer the coins.

After paying him, I waited for over 2 hours, no news. After multiple times of me asking him about the coins he always pushed back another hour or half hour, until he finally delivered 105m.

One day later, playing on my iPhone I wanted to start a 15m match, I had 80m coins left. It rolled to search for a user, and faded out asking me if I want to buy chips.

I logged out and back in, to find out my chips have been removed leaving me with 100 chips.

I asked him about this, his response "it says you have been using mod so your chips got removed". I told him and tried to explain to him that I didn't use anything other then playing the game and that the account wasn't even banned. Its just the coins that got removed, if I would have used anything, AND GUYS I DIDN'T - it would have banned me as I have seen others being banned for using 3rd party apps. So he pretty much scammed me and in other words said nah nah fk you. Due to his transferring method miniclip took out my coins. His offer, refund half the money or nothing. Wtf is wrong with you. Why would you offer me half the money if its your own fault, instead of offering a solution, he choose to scam me. DWC.

He will probably -rep me for this post, but I don't care. Will atleast let people know what he does around here.

My account was flagged for the same reason, it happens, that's the risk of buying a mass amount of funds from someone. You were not scammed, someone can't play with fake coins nor can they refund coins after you already have them - it doesn't work that way.

Don't try to sales trash if you have no idea on how Miniclip 8 ball pool works.

Good luck selling this OP, I was actually going to purchase some coins from you, I like your prices.

They told me I was using mods too, and I wasn't.

Don't blame OP for something he had no control over, you didn't get scammed - you were well aware of buying coins from a third party from the start.

If you wanted it to be 100% fair then you could've bought it from Miniclip at their own rates $100 for 1.5M coins lol

Owning up to what exactly? He didn't take any coins back from you and once you were received the coins they were in your possession and were 100% in your control and anything that happened after you were given the coins is your fault.

This is like buying a stolen verified twitter, you paid for it but twitter can pull it back at any time or lock it for any reason at all.

You took the same loss with Miniclip, everyone takes a loss that they don't like, you will learn to live with it.

Dude, by this time we get that you are working with him.

This is like transferring bitcoins to paypal, if paypal is blocking out the money a day later because you used a VPN when sending out the money, , thats your fault. This is what this is. He didn't own up to it and it indeed is his fault. He scammed me because he can't transfer coins safely. There are sellers that transfer coins safely. Plus the lack of communication and unwillingness to corporate and just scam his buyers out of money is indeed scamming. Instead of owning up to it and offer to replace, he argued with me and gave me half the money back. What the fk is this?

mazyoona - March 19, 2017, 12:50 pm

Not working with him and saying all that nonsense makes you look even more stupid. Plus, the fact that you didn't respond to my argument and you just came here proving something irrelevant is what I call funny. Again, I repeat. If you transfer your Bitcoins for Paypal. And the guy you buy paypal from is transferring the money using a VPN and paypal blocks your money a day later, its HIS fault. If he cant transfer coins safely and provide a replacement or refund, then thats scamming. Don't try to attack something you know exactly is true, if it would happen to you, you wouldn't talk like thatg.

He just assumed you was using hacks, he probably never had encountered such an issue before. Don't be so quick to assume, I'm sure $12 is nothing to the OP and could have been refunded if you wasn't so hostile - he even offered a partial.

Let's set the coins and your loss aside; if you had purchased a stolen mercedes benz for 50% of it's retail price and was driving around with the number plates, surely, surely, you would have had the common sense to know you would get caught with such an expensive car for such a cheap price.

Welcome to my 8 Ball Pool Coin service. I will offer the best services, fast delivery, and the cheapest prices on HF. My coins will not get your account banned so don't worry about that!

He said your account wouldn't get banned, and your account wasn't banned, his Terms of Service never said anything about replacements or refunds so him offering you a partial refund was generous on his end.

Like I said, what you did with your coins after you got them from him are completely your fault and it had nothing to do with him, you already claimed you "wanted to start a 15m match, I had 80m coins left" which means you already spent a fraction of the coins so you should be held responsible for the rest of the coins that you lost.

You should have taken the precaution and got the coins transferred on a noob account and from there on transferred them to yourself, that's what I would do so I wouldn't put myself in any type of harm.

Your example doesn't make sense. I didn't purchase an item. I simply bought virtual currency in a game, the way he transferred it got my coins removed. I wasn't hostile at all, I waited all day for him to come online as he told me hes not home. I was patient, when he went on he went "your password is wrong" after giving him the password, he went "you used mod or transferred cash, in which case I cant do anything". I'm sorry, but this is bullshit and you know it.
