Thread: Scammed \$900 by Professor K - uid=210474

ElChico - December 23, 2016, 12:44 am

Long story short fellas .. the deal was that he'd take 2 online classes which were Political science and business calculus for $600 if I bring more of my friends who are taking the same class(political science) ... so I sent him $600

Then right after he did the first quiz which he didn't even get 50% on.

He said he would do it for my friends for only $300 since it's a very easy class and he got all the answers!

then came up quiz 2 which I did by myself since he was just being so careless about his customers. A few weeks later he started to do literally nothing for my classes, and most of the assignments were past due! Started giving excuses " I've been busy, I'm doing like 21 courses "

--

This is where everything changed! The mid-term was due on this day

ever since that day, he's just been ignoring me till I disputed the charges, now he's threatening me just like he did to many others and blocked me everywhere so I cannot reach him!

(Dec 23, 2016 05:44 PM)Professor K Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I only owe this user 180 for the course I was unable to complete. I'm more than willing to pay him that back.

He not only conspired to commit fraud by charging back his money (Then losing after I provided proof to PayPal) he made threats against me VIA HF to contact a lawyer which I'm still waiting patiently for.

Also if you're going to post the skype logs, post the un-editable file where your messages aren't removed for my end of the proof otherwise this holds no weight as some of these messages are edited.

I'm more than willing to give this user back 180$ in exchange for the closure of this dispute, that's as far as that goes.

Also, why does it say 900 in the title, there's no transaction details from actual paypal provided, and you didn't bother showing our PM's to the people of HF?

Quite concerning.

Typical new user wanting his money back after he received his services (Except his pol. science class which I didn't complete and agreed to a full refund).

Thanks.

Ohh look who has graced us with his presence.

Let's start with the $180 you been talking about which doesn't make any sense .. so I paid you for my two classes $600 and $300 for my friend's. Cool? you failed to complete any of them, why on earth would you owe me just $180? I know you'll say that I never gave you access to my other class(which didn't start till you screwed the first one) and Hell yeah I didn't and thank god for that .. I wouldn't trust you to do one simple equation after what happened..

It's not fraud to try to get your money back for (Services not rendered) which I can proof again and again! and the only reason PayPal didn't give me my money back is that the payments were " Friends/fam " so you can stop with your proof bu!!sh!t .. and if My skype logs are edited as you say, you are more than welcome to post whatever to prove that(Claiming that everybody is fake isn't going to work this time).

well it says $900 because $600 + 300 = 900$

reBELLYus - December 27, 2016, 6:15 pm

This is not new for Professor K. He has been known to torment those that go against his wishes by threatening to contact their school. Hence the reason why no one ever moves forward with making a scam report. He wanted to charge your friends for courses so he could just renege on his promises and then rip them off. I have seen it happen many times. Search his UID prior to dealing always and forever. This is one guy who is going to be exiting very soon. I apologize for your enormous loss. We will be in touch.

Egregious Jr. - December 27, 2016, 6:19 pm

You're the one having someone cheat you through school so you deserve it OP.

He is paying someone for a service. Due to it being unethical, he deserves to get scammed? Great logic. ???

Great logic. ???Yes, because I am assuming this person is in college. He is paying for someone to teach him material and pays for someone to do it; so stupid.

Since it is against HF rules, it is wrong. Nobody should ever be scammed, but someone that pays "$900" to pass a few classes has it coming.

Also, you should see both sides of the story (Prof. K side).

Not saying scamming is okay, but he had it coming in a sense.

Don't waste your time arguing with those buffoons. They are on a HACKING forum, yet they bitch about someone who pays for their homework completed. I'd say there are far more serious concerns than this.

Agreed. I've had a few customers contact me regarding their lack of fulfillment from the user OP has a dispute with. Hopefully the two can reach an amicable resolution.

Agree with that? You are on hack forums mate, people pay for services, people should be in no position to judge the service, only judge the guy who does not provide the service.

In college there are classes which are core, which may not have anything to do with OPS major. It is not material he will need in the future. We cannot assume. I am a 4.0 college student, I understand that. ???

I have paid minimalist to do an assignment in the past, so I am not saying it is not okay to do that. In fact, I don't give two shits what people do with their money. He is trying to cheat through his life, so I can see bad luck happening to him.

None of this has to do with the OP anyways and is a waste of time... peace.

Pinhead Larry - December 27, 2016, 6:36 pm

Ah man sucks bro thanks for letting the community know. I did business with Professor K once for an essay and it was successful, but no where as large as that sum of money. I planned on doing a statistics deal with him awhile back, but was instructed not too for this very reason.

OP for essays I would recommend JSquared, or reBELLYus. They are known for what they do. I can vouch for JSquared as I have done easy over $2000 worth of essays from this guy lol. I am the shittiest essay writer ever :P.

As for math classes, next time deal with someone from craigslist. They will have a resume, and you could meet them + pay them on a week to week basis for the class. Although I have never paid for a class, I think this would be the most feasible idea.

Goodluck OP, I hope everything works out for you.

This thread portrays Professor K as a scumbag. He should refund you in full and if he doesn't then users should avoid him.

Still, you're not meant to jack IG or Twitter accounts. That's not fair to the people who registered them fairly. Still, you're not meant to sell IG nor Twitter accounts, that's not fair to those users who do not break the terms and services of the social media applications.

Let's stay on-topic and focus on the dispute. The user was scammed and deserves a refund; your opinion on assignment services is entirely irrelevant.

ElChico - December 28, 2016, 7:01 pm

I'm happy that this post is getting attention so this doesn't happen to others.

For those who are saying that this's considered cheating and I had it coming! Lol .. well, I know that I was not supposed to do such a thing, but come on! I'm a full-time student enrolled in 7 classes.. who would have time to do all of them, so I figured since they're not core classes why not pay someone to take em for me and save some time for my other classes. At the end, I had to take em all by myself tho :).

Thanks to zSerity and reBELLYus who have helped me during my struggle times.

We all here to make Freinds and help each other by exchanging services or simply doing favors.
