One of the best moments for me personally would be when I passed a test for a job I really want. It had a 12 month waiting period as I failed last year but I finally passed it this year.

Would love to win that $20 BTC as I have all the other prizes. Thanks for the giveaway Jauz!

One of the best moments for me this year was getting onto a college course that I didn't have the prior grades for, purely based on my skill level at the subject before hand, Had a nice sense of accomplishment and made all of my self studying worth while.

Thanks for the giveaway bud.

Pain - December 23, 2016, 10:16 pm

First off I would like to say thank you for this contest OP as it keeps everyone in high spirits. Even though I do not celebrate Christmas I hope everyone has a great one.

An experience which is really memorable for me is when I was fighting Non-Hodgkin lymphoma, it is a type of cancer, I have been fighting it for quite a while now. It has been getting better with chemo and radiation therapy. Although I still have it, it is getting better and better by the day. I didn't want to get deep but this is really memorable as I have been getting better. Not just for this year but will be memorable for the rest of my life. Anyway, enjoy Christmas.

I'm posting to enter for 3pic.

The most memorable thing that I have done in this year (what's left of it) is being able to move into my own place with the woman that I love. I never really was able to hold down a relationship over a year because of being skeptical and trust issues (most of the time I was right), but I'm glad to have settled down with someone that has been through the same as me. In 2017, I look forward to just progress in general: at work, in the gym, in my relationship, the list goes on. I can't really just choose one aspect that I would want.

Thank you OP for this giveaway. And happy holidays to all!

Princeton - December 25, 2016, 10:41 am

Posting to get Ub3r :)

I'm approved.

In 2017 I'm willing to create my own design business and compete locally to establish a high-end reputation as I need to get more customers. Didn't do that good in 2016 especially here on HF, I only had like two or three customers lol, I might also start a free service and help some members, I've been doing this since I joined HF back in 2011, and why not...

Also, I want to learn Python next year; It's been recommended here by many members, I will be having a free year as I will finish college this summer and it seems like an incredible chance to grow my skills and shouldn't be missed. Also, I've been thinking about volunteering on a local non-profit here, I've always enjoyed helping others, and I'm thrilled to do it for an extended period next year.

Sorry for the long post, thanks again for this contest, and happy holidays :)

2016 for me was a big year in growing as a person. I am now 22 years old and made the decision to buy a house and car at 21, which put a huge source of responsibility on my shoulders. Seeing my peers from high school going to college and making themselves marketable was a huge motivation for me which is why I start going back to school to finish my degree and ultimately end up flying airplanes for the Navy. - l33t upgrade

Thanks so much for doing this OP!

Something I'm looking forward to in the new year is a true change in the human races collective consciousness, might sound a bit weird, but basically times are changing for the good and bad. The world is heading down a not so good path but with people promoting a healthy lifestyle and whatnot more and more are starting to wake up to their ignorance, I did in 2016 which I'm extremely grateful for.

I'm looking forward to more critical thinkers and people who actually do their research in 2017, also just the fun of life and what the years adventures bring! ?

I'd like the gift award, thanks again and happy holidays!

Gift award would be sweet. ?

declanL - December 28, 2016, 2:49 pm

I would really like the gift award because it's like a proper present.

As for 2016, I just hope to get through it, it's been depressing all round. The nightmare of politics and liars, lots of deaths of people I admired.

But I'm hopeful for 2017, partly because 7 is my lucky number. I'm going to travel the world a bit in the coming year, actually already started. Plus, think about it, nothing can be worse than last year (I hope!). ?

$20 PP please if I win.

Memorable 2016 Moment: I got my first real job this year saved up my money and then used the money to take a trip all the way across the country to California for a week where I met up with some friends of mine I've played Xbox with the past few years, even got to go to Disney for the first time in my life I was on my own for that week and I loved, after that I continued my trip and went to Atlanta to visit my Dad then went to Florida for a week and then finally back to NY to go home. Even though I quit my job to take that 1 month trip I am welcomed back whenever. I consider that an accomplishment/ my favorite time for 2016 since it's something I've always wanted to do for awhile now.

I am looking forward to a lot in 2017. In 2016, I got my own car and own place to live now which is a big step in life. However, I plan on learning a lot more in regards to being able manage my money a lot better and budget as well.

Thank you in advance!

I am posting to enter for the L33t upgrades.

First of all, nice giveaway man.

My new years resolution is to find effective ways to earn money online, to gain more knowledge in general, to finish the university, to maximize productivity, to go to the gym, to start with a brand new job, to strengthen current relationships, to enjoy more with my family, to read more books, to improve my skills and I would like to learn C.

Thanks a lot for hosting this man, very appreciated.

Happy New Year.

Good luck all.

Posting to enter for the BTC, thanks.

My favorite experience from 2016 was visiting family in Poland, it's a stunning country to visit. Hopefully 2017 will be just as great as 2016, if not better.

I would like to be entered into the $20 BTC giveaway.

For the year 2017, I am looking forward to hitting some new PRs at the gym and further pursuing my passion of working into the medical field by picking up my grades in university and applying to a few internships/jobs.

Are you offering L33T -> 3P1C? (I'm entering for an upgrade to 3P1C!)

Memorable moment in 2016 was realising (really late into 2016) that money doesn't buy you happiness and that being too focused on financial gain actually made me more depressed than happy.

Just little life lessons that other people were trying to warn me about and I would just ignore because I was too attracted to the money than building healthy relationships with people who was there for me, through doing so made me lose so many friends throughout 2016.
