Mister Slyther - December 28, 2016, 6:57 pm

All future pieces will be placed here.

So instead of posting many threads of my tags, why not put it all in one thread? here is all of it so far.

If you wish to support me, i would really appreciate it:

Well fuck me sideways and call me Dorothy, that's actually some really impressive work dude, you have a talent :)

UnknownDog - December 28, 2016, 7:00 pm

Wow, those look so awesome. I also noticed the WoW Demon Hunter. <3

Thanks both, i'm still aiming high to produce even better work.

New threads keep the section active.

And i believe you can only edit a post up until a certain amount of days.

I don't think that's true lol, why would u be able to edit a post only for x amount of days? based on my experience with forums I've never experienced such a feature. I doubt it's on here.

It used to be that way when I first joined HF. Back in 2010. But i havnt really had the need to update old threads so Idk if its still this way.

Xadusons - December 29, 2016, 12:52 pm

Yo these are pretty sick... I sort of don't like how its mainly a dark sig with just lines of color but you made it looks really nice. My favorite one is probably the last one (Sona).

Thanks man, this is a style that I've taken from a very inspiring artist, and I want to master this style for all my pieces.

That dj sona one is sick man. Great work!

AvessoVision - December 30, 2016, 12:27 am

I can see you're going with a really dark theme, as well it appears some of them are a bit too simple, as in a few glowing lines. Yeah the style grows on you, that's for sure, and would like to see more like the first and second. Those are a lot more conceptual and brings a vibe to it.

Cheers.

Way too monotone, Some of the lines are also really over sharpened.

Stay with good color schemes, otherwise these are just boring.

You should start incorporating other things into your art or itll just all look the same and get old quick.

Dont be afraid to experiment.

Hey Dorothy, I agree with your opinion.

By far the best graphics on HF

How much does it cost for work like this? $1500+?

I'm actually doing this work based on an artist i'm inspired from and I'm practicing on it. This is the artist: <http://www.itsbx.d.graphics/>

Some pieces I like them to be one colored, and I am fully aware of the idea of things being too monochromatic or not. I just feel some pieces really do workout with just 1 color.

I like the glow style so I will stick on it for now, however, I will definitely expand into more complicated pieces and using 3-4 colors.

Thank you :)

That is a huge claim :p

I only saw one of his pieces and I thought it was alright really, link me some of his work if you can, curious to see.

Edit: I saw the Dark mage one which did look visually appealing, however, the bunch of C4ds thrown in there are not really my taste. We all got our own taste. Just saw some other work, i like them, not bad at all.

You dont wanna just copy someones style. You have to create your own. But even if you look at his work, none of it is monotone.

His style? it's not his. Many artists do it and I would like to join the same idea as well. I don't know who came up with the style either. I find it good practice and I've improved significantly compared to shitty work a few weeks ago. That is what I believe. Also, not all of my pieces are only one color, obviously if I did that that would be far too boring.

I am happy with what I am producing so far.

Edit, he has one piece there that is only one color:

Other than that I appreciate your feedback and concern, no doubt about that.

I can't pick the right words for this, but.. Holy shit you're good!

I still do really love this, However I got one question. May I use one of your pictures as my Steam Profile picture? Credits will be given to you on description.

Working on figuring out my own style:

TehAustinsxD - January 3, 2017, 1:49 pm

These look really good! Nice work bro

Jachuchu - January 3, 2017, 5:49 pm

Your drawings are very beautiful. Good work!

Nyxuo - January 3, 2017, 6:22 pm

I'm enjoying the route you're taking. I liked your work and your experimentation that was inspired by bxd or whatever his name is but I think your self realization will be a lot better. Apply the skills you learn and create some unique art and it'll pay off. The last three pieces are nice and unique. The last one is my favorite although I'm not even fond of the colors I like the composition and they still work. It's borderline washed out in my opinion color was but they still seem to work. Keep up the experimenting I'm interested to see what else you create.

robinworks - January 4, 2017, 8:05 pm

Not too many tag artists coming up outside of circles. Specifically haven't seen anyone around here in a while that is anywhere decent.

MrSisterFister - January 5, 2017, 12:43 pm

The legion dude <3 <3 very nice work

MeltyNet - January 5, 2017, 12:45 pm

I remember seeing your pics on single threads. Good to see all of them in one as they all look fucking amazing!

Honestly keep up the great work as these are lit!
