Thread: Any Cops on here?

Supreme_ - December 31, 2016, 12:24 am no fed jokes please seriously, any cops? I wanna ask you guys questions about the path i'm looking to take

I live in the highest paying county in the country for cops, all records are open and some cops make $250,000-$300,000 with overtime and there is literally no violent crime

Trappy - December 31, 2016, 12:26 am

WHAT the hell that's insane, why so much? Even with no violent crime? I'd think that'd result in the higher paycheck

Zexo - December 31, 2016, 12:28 am

I think that pay wage is a bit estimated.

nah I live near 2 of the worst cities in America, Camden and Philly

Camden cops make about $45,000 a year and Philly cops make about $65,000 (plus overtime)

where I live the property tax is so high and there's no where else to put the money so they just spend it on police overtime

i'm not saying all officers here make that, just a few high ranking officers and detectives who take tons of overtime

Essence - December 31, 2016, 12:29 am

Don't know if you are trolling or if you actually think they make 300k a year? Unless they are putting in 70 hours a week of overtime I doubt they make 200-300k a year man. The job you are probably talking about takes YEARS to get to.

here's an article about NJ state troopers

there are many more out there, I am also talking about some small municipalities like I said not everyone makes that ridiculous amount but they are all paid very well (in my state atleast) it's not uncommon for cops to take home $150-200k after overtime in crazy cases yes some detectives and chiefs are taking home 300k and more

Why do you keep mentioning overtime?

Stop including that in your figures. Overtime should not be considered when talking about salaries. It's extra, not standard.

in 2017/18 Suffolk County sergeants will make 160k base pay and detectives will make over 200k in base pay, with all the overtime they give out who knows how much they'll end up making

6 NJ state troopers made $267,000 only in overtime

do people know how to read? not every cop in the country is making this, it is an anomaly, but some counties pay ridiculous wages to their cops, jesus Depending on the job overtime is sometimes standard. Police, EMS, health care workers, and many other professions almost exclusively work overtime.

I've had some very unpleasant encounters with them so I'm not actually very fond of them.

Sounds like you're a trouble maker. Once a criminal always a criminal.
