Quote:The historical romantic comedy follows 17-year-old high schooler Sagara Yoshiharu who one day time-travels to the Sengoku period, where all the major Samurai lords are cute girls. Yoshiharu meets Oda Nobuna, the female counterpart of Oda Nobunaga, and begins to serve her as a substitute of Kinoshita Tokichiro, who was killed.

That Anime somehow came out in a lot of YouTube Top 10 videos I watched as well as online recommendations so I decided to give it a go. Was a good watch while I was doing my stuff in Guild Wars 2. Though it isn't something you should hype over and watch right away if you have other shows you want to watch first.

Hm, may potentially watch it, sounds as if its a harem anime but could give it a go

It looks like a harem Anime, though there's really not a lot of it.

It's for passing time and only for one time.

AMAZING ANIME!! HEH : D

About Japanese history when they have war (but all men roles, most of them, replaced by women). The main character (guy) get teleported from Modern time to their time and he knows EXACTLY how the history turns out, he helps a woman and with his support, she avoids most of the traps!

I watched this a year ago, I liked it a lot.

From what I remember though, it left a lot of space for potential future seasons but nothing yet :(
