AHK scripts do not write memory

?I???po?N? - January 4, 2017, 3:21 pm

Somehow I do not believe you can't get VAC banned with a AHK script.
You can get overwatch banned right?

Yes overwatch ban happens after 11 people report you within 22-24 hrs I believe

You can't get banned by AHK. AHK doesn't write to memory, it's a script that emulates the amount of rcs needed to counter the recoil on the gun.

No lol- overwatch is a service of several people who review demos of people who have been sent to overwatch (from getting x amount of reports within ~24 hours), and depending on the decision of the majority of the people who review the overwatch will determine if the user is game banned.

So basically you can play 1 game everyday with a recoil script for example? Without getting in trouble.

Thats where u are wrong ahk scripts can read and write memory like other application if this script just simply use keyboard and mouse events then u should be ok

SIM-2223238 - January 4, 2017, 3:36 pm

Didn't people get banned for bunnyhop AHk scripts?

It depends if people report you or not.

People might think you can controll it yourself and not report.

Then its up to OW to decide if u cheat

Then its up to OW to decide if u cheat Yeah but I mean if you play 1 game you are with 9 different people (4 in your team 5 in their team)

This means you can get a max of 9 reports that game which is less than 11 in 24 hours so you won't get overwatched or am I wrong?

Most recoil scripts don't; was the point he and I were trying to say.

Yeah, you're right. That's the way people rage in mm without getting ow'd

Guys. You do not get VAC from AHK scripts end of discussion. As for being banned for bhopping, they got untrusted no VAC banned. This happens because they have the sleep intervals set at virtually nothing so you hit max speed 24/7

This.

Eccentric - January 8, 2017, 3:01 am

VAC bans only pertain to things that tamper with memory. You can't get VAC banned for a AHK script that uses the game itself.

Can confirm that this user is 100% legit! He simply compesses AHK script so people can't claim the code as their own.

(feel free to quote this on the thread)

So do I aim above the person, and just old the fire button down or do I shoot in bursts as well.

AberrantHD - May 21, 2017, 8:17 am

Bump This is still helping hundreds of people!

?ictor? - May 21, 2017, 8:25 am

If people don't know what they are talking about, then don't.

AHK scripts do not write memory, therefore you won't get VAC banned.

If you get 9 reports from LEM or up, you get into the OW system, then you can get OW'd for scripting.

If you get 11 reports LE and down, you get into the OW system too.

No, you cannot get VAC'd by using AHK scripts.

NA Riven - May 21, 2017, 8:27 am

Why don't you just share the AHK code. Since some members say DWC blabal

If it doesn't write memory/use offsets, yes.

Just had a good laugh reading all the posts with people thinking you can't read/write memory in AHK, lmao.
