EDIT: What i meant by "Never done anything like this" I meant ive never done this type of style. I was just experimenting in PS.

yoo, just did this banner. Never done anything like this. what are your opinions?

If this is your first try making a banner it is really good!

My opinion:

Stop whatever you're doing, go work as a graphical designer (freelancer or real job).
You got quiet a gift, making this on your first try!

It's energetic, clean (the black / grey, yet still colored) as well as the font.
Great job! ?

Pretty good man.

I like the lighting, although the source could maybe be moved a touch down. The flowers changing from red to black is a really nice touch to the "scene" part of the name as well.

Overall, pretty nice job.

the flowers are a nice touch, but take out the small petals in front of the letter/logo. besides that, super clean; nice!
